MAY SOLVE SKIRVIN HOLDUP

Victim, Whose Wife and Sister Tied, Identifies Photograph

SUSPECT CONFESES $50,000 S. F. 'JOB'

Series of Crimes Linked to Notorious Highwayman Held Nabbed

With the arrest in San Francisco this week of William N. O'Connor, alias "Big Bill" Connors, who was seriously wounded in a thrilling gun battle, City Marshal Claude Rogers here today declared he believed he had solved the mysterious and spectacular hold-up in June, 1923, when diamonds valued at $5000 were taken from the home at 1501 North Broadway of C. F. Skirvin, a retired newspaper publisher, now an orange grower.

Skirvin has identified O'Connor as his assailant, from a photograph, and when the asserted notorious bank robber and alleged diamond bandit is brought to Los Angeles to face spectacular charges there, Rogers stated, Skirvin has agreed to attempt definitely to identify the man. At that time an effort will be made to get a statement from O'Connor concerning the Santa Ana robbery, the chief addendum.

Women Are Tied

Santa Anans recalled that the unmasked bandit, believed by Rogers to be O'Connor, called upon Skirvin for a "business visit" during which he conversed about the Rhodes Oil company, in which he said he knew Skirvin was interested. During the pleasant visit the man suddenly drew a revolver and exclaimed:

"This is the real business I am here for. Don't make any outcry, but do as I say. Tell the women to keep quiet or there will be trouble."

The gunmen then ordered Mrs. Skirvin and her sister, Mrs. J. H. Walker of Creston, Iowa, tied with a rope which the city marshal now has. The bandit turned his weapon toward Skirvin and said:

"You've got nine diamonds in the safe. I want them, so open up the safe and get them."

Skirvin did as he was told, and the man took the gems, valued at $5000, and $90 cash, and escaped.

Other Robberies

At present O'Connor is charged specifically with leading his gang into the Provident Loan association offices in San Francisco last February and purloining jewelry valued at $200,000. Also, with two other men, he has been indicted for robbery of the Norwalk State bank last October.

Rogers said Los Angeles authorities have definite information connecting O'Connor with several other daring robberies.

At San Francisco the asserted gunman as wanted also for the slaying of his one-time pal, Jimmy Blanton, according to Rogers.

O'Connor was trapped in his apartment in San Francisco before he had time to don the woman's wig and feminine attire he had prepared for an emergency disguise.

Loot Located

After emptying his revolver twice at the squad of seven detectives who besieged his door, O'Connor was forced to surrender when shotgun wounds rendered his release.

Dawes Glad To Run Against Old Neighbor, Friend In Vote Race

CHICAGO, July 11.—General Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice president, today expressed pleasure that he would run against his old friend, a neighbor, Gov. Charles Bryan, Democratic candidate, for the same office.

Bryan and Dawes once lived within three blocks of each other in Lincoln, Neb. They were close friends during the days when both were struggling for success in the legal profession. Dawes left Lin-

City Stricken By Quake Swept By Fire

MESSINA, Italy, July 11.—Scores were injured, 200 frame dwellings destroyed and 1500 persons rendered homeless as Messina was swept by fire Thursday night.

One hundred and twenty houses were blown up with dynamite as firemen from surrounding cities fought to check the flames.

The housing situation, already critical since the earthquake, now is acute and the populace is being housed in tents.

The fire destroyed the Camines church, the gymnasium, the Normal school and more than 200 homes erected since the last quake. It was under control early today.

Sheriff Dodges Mob With Two Accused of Bank Robbery, Murder

(By United Press Leased Wire)

RED BLUFF, Cal., July 11.—Fred Johnson and Earl Williams, both recent arrivals in California, were saved from possible lynching last night when the sheriff spirited them away to the Oroville county jail.

They had been arrested after all day chase through the mountains which started when they are alleged to have robbed the bank of Tehama in Red Bluff yesterday morning and ended an hour after they are alleged to have shot to death Sam Hermanson, forest ranger.

Brought to Red Bluff by a posse during the early evening, a crowd gathered and made violent threats. While officers argued with the gathering, the sheriff slipped away with the two men, taking them to Oroville where they were kept in the county jail, heavily guarded throughout the night.

The two men were captured by a mountain man named McGuffin and a stock man, Coyle Turner, on a mountain road near Red Bluff, over which they were found driving in Hermanson's automobile.

When captured they first refused to tell how they came into possession of the car, although they admitted it was Hermanson's automobile and said they had been driving it since the machine was first used, stolen in San Francisco, had broken down.

Search for Hermanson led to the discovery of his body, with bullet holes through the head and face beaten and bruised, near the abandoned automobile.

COOLIDGE BACK ON JOB SEEKS TO FORGET

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Coolidge today took up the duties of state once more.

He had buried his younger son but the business of the nation must go on.

The presidential party reached Washington at 7:20 a. m., after an all night trip from the mountain cemetery at Plymouth, Vt., where Calvin Coolidge, Jr., is now at rest.

Mrs. Coolidge was very tired. Her face was lined but she bore her sorrow bravely.

The President walked to his limousine with a slow step but firm carriage.

Immediately after breakfast at the White House Mr. Coolidge returned to his desk at the executive offices and grimly began on the mass of work that has piled up since his son became ill.

Friends of the President believe that hard work will be a tonic to him; that the routine of his labors will serve to keep his mind from unpleasant memories; that it will dull his sense of loss.

Small Banks Hit By Wyoming Crash

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 11.—Following the closing of the First National and Citizens' National banks of Cheyenne Wednesday, four small banks in Wyoming and one just across the line in Colorado failed to open their doors yesterday.

One bank in each of Hillsdale, Carpenter, Cowley and Upton, Wyo., closed Thursday. The bank at Upton was the only one in Weston county. Grover, Colo., suffered the only bank disaster in that state resulting from closing the two in Cheyenne.

Exclusion Pact Boosts Jap Army

TOKIO, July 11.—A rush of applicants for enlistment in the army during the last few weeks was attributed by officials today to the feeling in Japan over the passage of the Japanese exclusion law by the American congress.

URGES CAUTION IN INVESTING IN OIL FIELD

SACRAMENTO, July 11.—Investors in California are being flooded with offers by promotion companies of securities in projects in what is known as San Juan basin, which apparently embraces a large area of oil fields, according to Edwin M. Daugherty, state corporation commissioner, in a statement made today in which he outlines the position of the corporation department relative to the so-called opportunities for investment.

"Some companies that apparently are attempting to evade the supervision of the corporation department," Commissioner Daugherty said, "are selling leases and there seems to be no plan to finance drilling and other operations necessary in connection with development."

The corporation department has been endeavoring to gather information on this field, which includes portions of New Mexico, Utah and Colorado. Everything indicates that investors should exercise the utmost care when investing in these projects. They should not regard a permit from this department as an endorsement.

Called Freak Field

The public must bear in mind that it is mandatory upon the corporation commissioner that he must issue a permit if the proposition presented to him is not unfair, unjust or inequitable. In this connection it must be remembered the state has no corps of geologists or engineers to make a physical investigation which would necessitate the drilling of test wells.

"The best information has been obtained from large operators in the basin is the freak, where oil has been produced as high in gravity as gasoline. No information has been obtained by the department giving promise of high production."

"The section of the field where high gravity oil was found probably will not be large in production, one geologist said. He added that in two other districts water was struck in the oil sands and in a third section one and a half barrels were produced in one well and a second well was non-producing. One company struck gas in two wells in another section of the field in New Mexico and in another district across the border in Utah contractors threw up the job after working about a year and spending approximately $100,000.

"This geologist added some permits had been obtained from the government in the Colorado end of the basin where midcontinental oil has been discovered. He said the looks promising but geologists generally contend there were doubts oil would be produced in paying quantities. He summed up conditions by declaring the basin could not be called a commercial field and that failure has attended nearly all ventures."

Geologists Skeptical

"Another geologist acquainted with conditions in the field stated there are no means at present for predicting commercial development there as any wells that may have been drilled are not permitted to flow and there is no way to get oil out of the district. Oil similar to gasoline has been found, but the history of oil is that fields listed as commercial producers show heavier oil, he said. A third geologist connected with a large producing company summed up conditions by declaring the greatest difficulty to be surmounted is lack of transportation facilities. This, he added, with small production would indicate the field is not a large affair from a commercial standpoint and there is nothing to encourage great development."

The corporation department has also received a copy of an article written by H. J. Hagerman, former governor of New Mexico, now United States commissioner to the Navajo Indians.

"So far," Commissioner Hagerman wrote, "very little oil has been discovered in New Mexico. One hundred and sixty seven wells have been dug or are being dug in the state. The cost of these operations must have been around $5,000,000. Of the 167 wells, more than 130 have been abandoned. Some of them were good water wells. Some millions more must be expended before profitable production can commence."

California Grows As Industry Area

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—California's growing importance as one of the leading manufacturing states of the nation was emphasized here today with the official announcement that the Bass-Huetter Paint company, has completed negotiations to erect a $250,000 varnish factory in this city.

News of the deal was made public by Andrew J. Gallagher, industrial director of the Southern Promotion association. Confirmation of the deal came from L. M. D. Commun, general manager of the paint company.

The new plant will be constructed at a cost of approximately $500,000 and will include a group of modern buildings, immense storage tanks for turpentine, linseed and other vegetable oils, and, it is estimated, a glass warehouse.

volver arm useless.

Search of his room revealed more than $50,000 worth of loot believed to be from the Hughston-Gillmore Jewelry company's robbery in San Francisco.

As the police were rushing O'Connor to the Central Emergency hospital their progress was halted by an automobile. The officers immediately recognized this car as one they were searching for in the hunt for accomplices of O'Connor. They trained their guns on the occupants of the machine and arrested "Sailor" George Burke and Henry Simons, a jeweler, who were booked with O'Connor.

City Marshal Rogers admitted the possibility that the Skirvin diamonds may have been disposed of to Simons.

Makes Confession

O'Connor was badly wounded, it was reported, the shots from the detectives having pierced his right arm in three places, and he also sustained a wound in the neck and shots in the left side. Physicians said he would recover from his injuries.

After several times refusing to admit his alleged illegal actions, O'Connor was said to have confessed planning the Hughston-Gillmore gem theft, the Bank of Italy hold-up and the Provident Loan association robbery in San Francisco. He denied that he killed his alleged accomplice, Jim Blanton, who was shot to death in a mysterious manner in a Bay City apartment house. The police, however, told O'Connor they would confront him with a witness who is said to have heard O'Connor say that he shot Blanton.

A quantity of the jewelry O'Connor admitted stealing was found in Simon's jewelry store in San Francisco.

Local officers did not know, they said, when the prisoner will be brought to Los Angeles to face charges here.

Protest of U. S. Mobilization Is Kiwanis Subject

Adoption by the Anaheim Kiwanis club of a resolution protesting the proposed mobilization by the war department, September 12, of various war units of the nation was being discussed here today by members of the Santa Ana club.

The subject never has been discussed here by the board of directors, according to R. R. Miller, president of the local club, who said he had not anticipated action, unless the Anaheim club sends a copy of the resolution here with a request that the club give it consideration.

The Anaheim club resolution was directed to President Calvin Coolidge and urged that he use his influence to prevent consummation of the war department plan. It was contended that the demonstration would serve only to inflame the populace of this country and would incite fear and distrust among other nations.

The corporation department has also received a copy of an article written by H. J. Hagerman, former governor of New Mexico, now United States commissioner to the Navajo Indians.

"So far," Commissioner Hagerman wrote, "very little oil has been discovered in New Mexico. One hundred and sixty seven wells have been dug or are being dug in the state. ## 2 Near Death in Grazing Land Row HARVARD FUND ENRICHED BY $500,000 CHECK MAN TOLD OF DUTY TO SONS

AUSTIN, Nev., July 11.—Thomas Brackney and Vicente Arriate, both ranchers of Grass Valley, were in the hospital here today following a shooting affray caused by a grazing dispute.

Arreto shot Brackney in the arm and leg and received wounds himself that may prove fatal. Both men are sheep ranchers and had been quarreling over their respective rights of pasture on government range land.

Suspend Work in Old Mining Town

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11—Mokelumne Hill, a picturesque old mining town in the Sierras, was virtually doomed when the state railroad commission approved the abandonment of efforts for a water supply. The ditch that supplies the water recently became clogged and inadequate, and the commission granted the application of the Mokelumne Power and Water Co. to suspend operations.

The gift was acknowledged by Bishop William Lawrence, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee which is seeking $10,000,000 to extend the service of Harvard.

"It is to chemical research that we may look for the solution of many of our problems of health and disease, for increasing the span of life and for those benefits which an understanding of the laws of nature renders possible," Bishop Lawrence said in a statement announcing the Rockefeller donation.

Homer Able, 29, oil worker who received probation from Superior Judge Z. B. West here today in connection with a check charge, doesn't want his two little sons to follow in his footsteps.

He told the court so, rather vehemently today, after his attention had been called to the example he was setting for his children.

Able had admitted to the court that when he wrote a $15 worthless check, which caused his arrest, he had been drinking liquor. A question shot at him by Judge West caused him to gasp.

"What about those two little boys of yours? I suppose you want them to follow in your footsteps?" suggested the court.

Able was speechless for a moment, then blurted:

"No sir, I wouldn't want to catch any man giving my boys a drink."

"Then be careful about the example you set them," the court admonished. "Drinking is just as bad for you and it would be for them when they grow up."

BANK BUYS BONDS
Purchase of the $5,000 bond issued by the National Bank of Santa Ana, was announced today by County Clerk J. M. Banks, following action of the board of supervisors in accepting the bank bid. The bonds were sold for par and accrued interest, the district to furnish a legal opinion as to validity of the issue.

ELKS END CONCLAVE
BOSTON, July 11—With all the business affairs settled and the famous parade over, thousands of brother Elks departed from the sixtieth annual convention of the Grand Lodge of the B. P. O. E. to meet next year in Portland, Ore.

The whole of the brain never works at one time. It operates alternately in two halves.

DISMISS CASE AS PAIR MEND WAYS
A statutory charge was dismissed today in the case of Inez Fillet and M. Romero, who promised Judge R. Y. Williams in superior court here that they would not again violate the law or the conventions by living together as man and wife.

The woman ran away from her home in San Diego with Romero, it was alleged, and the couple lived in Santa Ana, renting a house from a Mexican minister, who, after discovering the facts, converted them and caused them to mend their ways.

THE WOMAN RAN AWAY FROM HER HOME IN SAN DIEGO WITH ROMERO, IT WAS ALLEGED, AND THE COUPLE LIVED IN SANTA ANA, RENTING A HOUSE FROM A MEXICAN MINISTER, WHO, AFTER DISCOVERING THE FACTS, CONVERTED THEM AND CAUSED THEM TO MEND THEIR WAYS.

BEAN GROWERS HEAR MARKET STATE TOLD
A. E. Block, well known Colma resident, left today over the Union Pacific for a trip to Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edson, who had been visiting in this city, left today over the Santa Fe on their return journey to their home in Mound Valley, Kans.

MARTIN V. BIGGS of Long Beach, former Santa Ana resident, addressed a large gathering of bean growers last night at the Irvine school, Irvine.

Mr. Martin V. Biggs, 27, of 507, East Main Street, was found guilty by a jury which heard charges that he looted an Irvine oil well.

MAN'S TROUBLE ARRESTED
"The past 4 years I have been going down, down, down, and had to give up work a year ago because of my weakened condition. I suffered from constipation and colic attacks. Hay's Wonderful Remedy was recommended to me. I took a course of it and am now feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practicaly all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

CHURCHILL STATED THAT THE CROP OF BEANS FOR 1924 WAS EXPECTED TO BE MUCH LARGER THAN IN 1923, DUE TO THE FACT THAT MORE BEAN GROWERS ARE PLANTING BEAN LIMA CROPS.

He stated that the regular lima bean crop for 1924 would be much smaller than even the 1923 crop, and that the association did not expect to see more than 500,000 bags raised this year.

Anticipated prices for beans at the opening of the 1924 season are expected to be about 10½ cents a pound, according to Churchill. The 1923 season closed with a price of 11 1-4 cents a pound being obtained.

A similar meeting to the one held last night at Irvine will be held at the Community Service building, at Wintersburg at 8 o'clock tonight.

For years the dining cars of the country have maintained an enviable reputation for the delicious wholesomeness of their foods.

You, no doubt, have frequently wondered how it is possible for them to serve such perishable foods as lettuce, celery, butter, milk, etc., in such a remarkably fresh state; A Bohn Refrigerator in every dining car is the reason.

The proven efficiency of the Bohn Syphon System of refrigeration and unusually thick insulation are combined with the pure white beauty of glistening porcelain in this new model for the home. Its appearance suggests the sanitary, trustworthy service that it performs for a lifetime.

With this refrigerator in your home, you will never have to apologize for the state of preservation of the foods intrusted to its care.

The Bohn Refrigerator is faithful.

Expert Testifies In Liquor Trial

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Henry Meyerson knows when a man is drunk.

Attorneys who doubted Henry's testimony in justice court today when he declared James Wilson was intoxicated when he drove his machine into the side of a street car received a snort of disgust in reply.

"I certainly ought to know when a fellow is drunk," Meyerson declared. "I've been drinking for 40 years. Only last night I was feeling pretty good."

The defense stipulated the testimony was that of an expert.

SET VISITORS' DAY AT TRAINING CAMP

The following concerning Visitors' day at the training camp at Del Monte was received here today from H. L. Suydam, civilian aide for California:

"July 19 has been designated Visitors' day for the citizens military training camp now being held at Del Monte, and a cordial invitation is extended to the parents, relatives, and friends of the 1200 boys now attending the camp, to visit the camp on that day.

Special provision has been made for entertainment of visitors and guests on that day.

"Inspection of camp and of the work by those who are interested in the building of sturdy American manhood is welcomed at any time; but on Visitors' day the routine of instruction will be subordinate to the entertainment of relatives and friends of the students.

"The program for the day will include events which demonstrate fully the character of the instruction given to the students.

"Reduced summer rates from all points on the Southern Pacific railroad will be in effect for the journey."

Boost Lineberger For Re-Election

PASADENA, July 11.—More than 350 Republicans from the Ninth congressional district assembled here today at the Hotel Greene to endorse a congressional candidate. Walter P. Lineberger, of Long Beach, present incumbent and running for re-election, will receive the endorsement of the conference, it is anticipated.

Endorsement of the Coolidge campaign will also be given, while several well known Southern California Republicans, including Miss Belle McCord Roberts, Long Beach publisher, will speak.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Troubles Caused by Fermentation, Food Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after a meal are caused by evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called acid indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach aches, cramps, vomiting and to creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hinders the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids without having a medical practitioner on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisulat Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of the powder three times a day after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent ulcers. There is no course or pain. Bisulat Magnesia (the powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless and the best form of treatment for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. adv

Father and Daughter Plan Surprise For Mother

Dr. F. W. Slabaugh and his daughter, Miss Virginia Slabaugh, planned a very delightful little surprise for Mrs. Slabaugh on Wednesday evening, the occasion being the anniversary of her birth.

Mrs. Slabaugh was taken to the Colonial Club for dinner, and there she found ready to greet her with congratulations her friends, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul, Cassius and Miss Mildred Paul and Dr. and Mrs. Harry Zaisler.

The table was centered with vivid trumpet flowers, the color motif being yellow and orchid, with lighted candles adding to the charming effect. Mrs. Slabaugh received a gift of a lovely basket filled with perfect American Beauties.

After the dainty dinner menu had been enjoyed, the party returned to the Slabaugh home where social chat was carried on until time for the honored guests to fill another engagement.

Torosa Rebekah

Beautifully impressive and well carried out were the installation ceremonies for the new official staff of Torosa Rebekah Lodge at Odd Fellows hall on Wednesday evening, 300 members and visitors being present to enjoy the event.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Amelia Prather and her efficient committee the lodgeroom had been transformed into a bower of bloom. At the four corners of a handsome room stood tall baskets filled with hydrangeas in their lovely pastel shades, and at each officer's station stood a large basket filled with gorgous gold and red canna lilies.

The following officers were installed by the district deputy president, Mrs. Lula Nankervis of Westminster and her capable staff of twelve, whose beautiful work won the admiration of the large assemblage: Past Noble Grand, Hazel Munselle; Noble Grand, Allie Cain; Vice Grand, Laura Walker; Chaplain, Fannie M. Lacy; Conductor, Anna Marston; Warden, Blanche Chandler; Inside Guardian, Mary Cooper; Outside Guardian, Leona Talbott; Recording Secretary, Ida Perkins; Financial Secretary, Maude Swarthout; Treasurer, Pearl Loucks; R. S. N. G., Amelia Prather; L. S. N. G., Vada Pankey; R. S. V. G., Alice Gould; L. S. V. G., Frankie Johnson.

The grand officers present were District Deputy Grand Master, E. W. Dimmock; Past President Rebekah Assembly, Stella Merrick; Grand Trustee Grand Encampment, Will Merrick of Long Beach. The district deputy and her staff were presented with gifts and lovely bouquets by Mrs. Frankie Johnson in appreciation of their fine work and the Past Noble Grand's jewel was presented to Mrs. Hazel Munselle for her efficient services while in the chair. Mrs. Mary Cooper, in behalf of the lodge gave a present to Royal Loucks, the drummaster for the Past and Mrs. Fannie Lacy presented a beautiful pin to Hazel Van Tuyl, the musician for the staff at the Rebekah Assembly, when it made such a fine appearance and brought home many laurels from the home lodge.

The grand march to the banquet room was led by Mrs. Lula Nankervis and E. W. Dimmock, followed by the members of the staff, who found their places at a large round table by means of yellow place cards. The hall was a symphony in yellow, brought about by the skillful hands of Mrs. Leona Talbott and her bevy of committee women. Quantities of graceful Scotch broom and golden coreopsis were used in artistic effect and candles shed their soft glow over the animated scene. Delicious sherbet, cake and coffee were served.

Past Matrons

Since conservation of electricity is the general rule and in view of the fact that it takes many kilowatts to brighten Orange county, the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called acid indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach aches, cramps, vomiting and to creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hinders the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

LAUNCH FIGHT OVER $95,000 INSURANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Attorneys for four insurance companies holding policies totaling $95,000, today prepared to fight payment to Mrs. Elizabeth Cheyney, widow of Samuel W. Cheyney, widely known mining engineer, on the grounds that Cheyney is alive and in Mexico.

A body identified as that of Cheyney was found in the fire gutted Cheyney cottage near Oroville last January. Dr. Homer Swan, Chico dentist, identified the body.

The insurance policies were taken out only a few months before Cheyney's purported death. Mrs. Cheyney has filed four suits in the Butte county superior court to collect the sums due under the policies.

There is a large part of North Australia where wooden houses never last long, for if they are built, they are eaten. The whole of the woodwork is chewed to pulp by white ants, and the house becomes a mere shell, with walls no thicker than paper. When a storm comes it falls flat.

The huge gates of Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey are believed to have taken eighteen years to make.

Mrs. R. G. Tuthill Hostess Yesterday At Beach Party

Mrs. R. G. Tuthill was hostess to a company of friends yesterday at her Laguna Beach cottage, where a delightful afternoon was whiled away in the balmy sea air in sight of the bounding sea.

A delicious three-course luncheon was served at one o'clock, Mrs. Tuthill having gathered her decorations from the hillsides and canyons of "Our Village." The luncheon tables were centered with the shining ice plant with its wee red blossoms, and the house decorations were the golden sunflowers, tobacco plant and eucalyptus with its pungent odor of the out-doors.

The honored guests of the event were Mrs. Tuthill's sister-in-law, Mrs. H. S. Tuthill, and her two charming daughters, the Misses Ruth and Helen, of Portland, who left for their home today after a ten day visit here. The two young women and the hostess' sister, Miss Mame Daugherty, assisted Mrs. Tuthill in her pleasant duties.

After luncheon, the afternoon hours were passed with bridge, the appreciated trophies going to Mrs. J. P. Hatzfield, Mrs. A. W. Rutan and Mrs. F. B. Miller, while Mrs. H. S. Tuthill was honored with a guest prize.

The guest list included Messes. Russell Scott of Pasadena, O. H. Egge, C. V. Davis, A. P. Nelson, F. B. Miller, M. A. Flood, J. P. Hatzfield, George S. Briggs, H. T. Duckett, Dr. Mary E. North Dakota Bride Is Feted on Trip To San Francisco

Cozily settled in their new home at 206 West St. Andrews Place, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Blanding are welcoming friends old and new as they call to greet the charming North Dakota girl won by the popular young landscape gardener, and wedded in San Francisco on June 18.

Mrs. Blanding was Miss Corinna Beiseker of Harvey, North Dakota, and came to California on the special train chartered by the hardware men of that state on their way to attend the National Hardware Men's convention in San Francisco. Accompanied by her future father-in-law, C. H. Blanding, the bride-elect was the object of much friendly interest en route, and many galettes were planned for her.

One event was a hardware show planned by the feminine members of the party, who accompanied the quantities of handsome gifts with gay jingles and also presented a mock wedding in the observation car. Upon another occasion as the passengers alighted when the train made a brief stop in the desert, one convention delegate made a speech complimentary to Miss Beiseker, asserting that since she was to reside in the Golden West, and had won such firm friendships en route to her wedding, it would be pleasant to present her with a golden gift and sixty dollars was soon presented to the amazed little bride-to-be.

Her arrival in San Francisco coincided with that of Mr. Blanding going north from this city, and the marriage ceremony soon followed with Miss Beiseker gowned in beige chiffon and lace and carrying white rosebuds. A southern honeymoon was followed by the arrival at the home here, where there are many memories of an amazing "wedding trip" taken by a bride to meet her bride-groom.

Pleasant Hiking Trip

The Young People's society of the Unitarian church enjoyed a jolly trip yesterday to Switzer's camp, near Pasadena. Three automobiles, driven by B. E. Tarver, the Rev. Mr. Reifsnyder, pastor of the church, and Miss Onita Cain drove to the foot of the trail, others in the party being the Misses Annie Bruce, Ethel and Rena Bruerton and Thelma Patton; Messrs. Stewart, Carrer, Jack Vizgers and Tom Humiston.

Arriving at the end of the trail at the beautiful camp, appetites were whetted for the enjoyment of the lunch, which was carried along by the hikers.

A. E. Block, well known Costa Mesa resident, left today over the Union Pacific for a trip to Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edson, who have been visiting in this city, left here today over the Santa Fe to their return journey to their home at Mound Valley, Kans.

Martin V. Biggs of Long Beach, former Santa Ana resident, was in the city yesterday with L. W. Collins, who purchased a Santa Fe ticket for a return journey to his home in Denver, Colo.

Mrs. M. Knapp of 507 East Pine street was among outgoing passengers over the Santa Fe yesterday, going to Avard, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schonberg of 1002 North Broadway were in Balboa Wednesday, guests at the reception to Capt. and Mrs. William Kelly on their golden wedding anniversary.

Horace Fine and daughters, the Misses Charlotte and Cleora, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schonberg, and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young are leaving tomorrow for a two weeks' camping excursion along the coast route, planning to motor as far north as Eureka.

The huge gates of Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey are believed to have taken eighteen years to make.

Alexander-Jaques Wedding Interesting Event Of Yesterday

A wedding of great interest to Anaheim and Santa Ana people was that of Miss Dorcas Ruth Jaques, daughter of Mrs. Mary C. Jaques, of Anaheim, and James Worth Alexander, son of assistant postmaster and Mrs. James E. Alexander of this city.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride in Anaheim at nine o'clock on Thursday morning, the Rev. T. H. Walker, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city, officiating. The home was prettily decorated for the occasion, and the bride made a charming picture in her white bridal robe and carrying a shower of Cecile Brunner buds and maiden hair fern.

The young couple were unattended, and only the immediate members of the two families, which included the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Jaques, her sisters, the Misses Irene and Easter Jaques and brother, Roswell Jaques, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Alexander and brother Stanley Alexander, witnessed the marriage.

Following congratulations, a dainty wedding breakfast was served and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander left for a ten day honeymoon trip to San Francisco and Oakland. When they return they will reside on Newport Road, Tustin, where the groom is a prosperous rancher. His bride has been employed in the city clerk's office at Anaheim.

Many handsome gifts to adorn their new home were received by the bride and groom, who have hosts of friends in Orange county who will wish them well in their pathway through life together.

Missionary Society

The P. A. Robinson cottage at Newport Beach was the pleasant meeting place of the W. H. M. S. of the First Methodist church recently when over half a hundred members motored down for the pleasant day.

A splendid pot-luck dinner served at noon was followed by the business session when Mrs. Anna Robinson, conducting the devotions, voiced helpful thoughts based on the Twenty-third Psalm. It was reported that a $1000 annuity to the David and Margaret home had been given by Mr. and Mrs. George Millner.

Miss Marjorie Lusk gave a splendid report of Dr. Hayward's address at the annual county convention held recently at Garden Grove.

Cool Dishes

New Onions on Toast
New onions, 4 squares of toast, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, ½ cup cream, salt and pepper, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Allow four or five onions for each portion. Use all the white part. Wash and boil in salted water until tender. Drain. Sprinkle a little cheese on each piece of toast. All the diet toast should be buttered. Arrange onions on toast, sprinkle with cheese and a dash of pepper. Put in a hot oven to melt cheese. Heat cream and pour 2 tablespoons over each piece of toast. Sprinkle with parsley and serve.

Watermelon Cocktail

Make balls of watermelon with a French vegetable cutter. Allow six of eight balls to a serving. If the melon is not sweet cover balls with sugar, about one-half to a spoon of sugar for each ball to a good rule. Squeeze the juice from oranges, allowing two tablespoons of juice for each cocktail. Put the mixture into a glass jar, cover over boiling water. Cover tightly and let stand 15 minutes. Strain into syrup. Squeeze juice from lemons and strain lemon juice into first mixture. Add strawberry and raspberry juices and chill. Serve in cocktail glasses with a sprig of mint in each glass.

Mint Julep

Two cups water, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup boiling water, 10 stalks mint, 1-2 cup strawberry juice, 1-2 cup raspberry juice, 4 lemons.

Boil sugar and water 15 minutes. Cut mint fine with the kitchen scissors. Put in a bowl and pour juice over. Strain into a glass add a maraschino cherry in each glass adds much.

DISPLAY FEATURES 'SAVINGS' IN HOMES

Time-saving, price-saving and space-saving ideas for homes in Santa Ana were being disclosed today to the public by the Barr Lumber company at 1020 East

Fourth street. The firm has constructed two model kitchens which embody the newest economy features, such as breakfast room seats and tables which fold out of sight, built-in cabinets, coolers and cupboards of the latest patterns, different style refrigerators, folding ironing boards and other unique necessities.

Another model room has five different kinds of disappearing beds, a writing desk and a buffet that are part of the building and not merely articles of furniture. Built-in medicine cabinets of new styles and other kinds of cabinets also are featured.

These model rooms will be open for visitors tonight and tomorrow night between 7 and 9 o'clock as well as during business hours.

FURNISHINGS ALMOST GIVEN AWAY

INTEREST IN 'KIDNAP' WIFE CASE SHIFTS TO GIRL OF 3 AS FATHER GIVEN $250 FINE

A pretty, round-faced and curly-haired girl of 3 years—pawn in a possible future game at law involving the question of her custody—today came into the picture of the admitted marital strife of Harry and Lorraine Grassle, latter known as the "kidnapped" wife.

Predictions regarding the impending struggle over the child were freely made in Orange court circles, where the father had displayed intense affection for his offspring, whose little garments he often mended, he said, and where the mother disclosed an unrelenting search for the tot, whom she accused her husband of having spirited away, that finally brought the daughter again under maternal protection.

Officially, however, the chapter was closing on the "kidnap" incident, as Grassle was convicted and ordered to pay a fine of $250 and his brother, Eugene, $100, on a charge of battery that arose when Mrs. Grassle averred she was taken from her bed by force and incarcerated in the insane ward at the county hospital by the two defendants, whom she accused of choking her with a blanket.

Asks for Blanket

After a jury in Justice G. W. Ingles court rendered its verdict, after deliberating half an hour late yesterday, and the jurist imposed sentence, Mrs. Grassle, who had sobbed out her testimony, showed intense gratification as she asked for possession of a blood-stained blanket. This she claimed, her husband forced down her throat to stifle her screams for help when she was being rushed to the hospital.

"I want my mother to see how well I was treated," she remarked ironically, as she cast a reproachful glance toward Grassle.

WIFE'S PISTOL WEDDING PLEA SCOFFED AT

Local marriage license officials today scoffed at the assertion of Mrs. Cynthia Graham, Los Angeles, made during the trial of her suit for divorce in that city, that she had been forced by her husband at the point of a pistol to apply for a marriage license in Santa Ana.

"Cave man stuff has never been permitted in this office," said County Clerk J. M. Backs, who has charge of the license bureau. "That license was issued in 1914 and I didn't issue it, but I know that such a thing couldn't have happened."

Testifying at her divorce trial before Judge Thompson in Los Angeles yesterday, Mrs. Graham declared that her husband, Louis R. Graham, had lured her to the courthouse while they were automobile riding in Santa Ana and there intimidated her so that she complied with his demand that she fill out a license affidavit.

In spite of her protests that her interlocutory decree of divorce from her first husband had not yet been made final, Graham produced a pistol, she testified, and forced her to proceed.

The court continued the case until today, instructing Mrs. Graham to produce a copy of her license affidavit.

Local records today showed that the Grahams secured their license here February 5, 1914.

AD CLUB PLANS 'SCHOOL' FOR MEMBERS

A program of instruction in writing retail advertising and intensive study of technical details of advertising was laid out at a meeting of the board of directors of the Santa Ana Ad club held today.

It was decided to eliminate virtually all entertainment features of Ad club programs for the time being to enable the club to develop practical advertisers and to disseminate the kind of advertising information fitted to the immediate needs of Santa Ana merchants.

Among the subjects to be studied at the next few meetings are advertising "layouts". Members would be taught how to make the kind of skeletons of advertisements that will enable the compositor to "set up" the contents and obtain the effects wanted.

Other subjects will be:

Illustrations, what to use, how to use them and where to get them; type, borders, treatment of headlines and sub-heads, and suggestions to help merchants plan good-looking, easy-to-read advertisements; copy, with all the various methods of presenting merchandise to the public through advertising and searching out the news in goods to be advertised.

In short, it is proposed to make meetings of the Santa Ana Ad club classes in advertising for the summer months, the "school" presenting the fundamentals of every phase of retail advertising and such topics as salesmanship, conducting sales, linking together merchandising and advertising programs and ethical practices.

The next meeting of the club will be held at noon Friday, July 18, at St. Ann's Inn, and the club members were extending an invitation to all business men to attend and take part in the discussion.

The husband's testimony, given in clear voice without display of emotion, frequently was interrupted by sobs that directed courtroom attention to Mrs. Grassle.

In the main, Grassle's version coincided with that of his wife, though he denied emphatically he had choked her. He added that, after consultation with several persons, he had come to the conclusion his wife was not normal mentally.

Dr. D. F. Royer of Orange, who attended Mrs. Grassle since November, testified, however, that he had no reason to believe his patient was abnormal.

Irwin Jamison, who said he witnessed the departure of the trio for the hospital, did not hear Mrs. Grassle scream for help, he told the jury.

Tells Girl's Movements

Pretty Mary Alice, the daughter, was taken to the hospital to give her mother flowers. Grassle maintained. Rebuffed by his wife, however, he declared, he left the child under the direction of two women at the Mission court. Subsequently he said, Mrs. Grassle returned home and then went back to the hospital.

His uncle, at Redlands, next received the daughter, who was left there, he stated, until the wife was said to have told the uncle of her intention to have a detective get Mary Alice. Grassle then took the girl to a Hollywood private home for children. It was here Mrs. Grassle and her attorney, L. F. Coburn, obtained custody. He intimated he understood a ruse was resorted to, to cause an attendant's absence.

The forthcoming struggle involving custody of the child was expected to be precipitated when Mrs. Grassle carries out her announced intention of filing suit for divorce in the near future.

Realty Dealer's Overcoat 'Cache' Nets Rum Arrest

Because an overcoat left hanging on the wall of his South Glassell street real estate office was found to hold a bottle of what police described as liquor, M. Schaffert, 50 years old, of Orange, was today facing a charge of possessing liquor to which he will answer July 22 at 10 a. m. before City Recorder G. W. Ingles. Schaffert posted $250 bond for his appearance at that time.

Officers Charles Wallace and E. E. Kirkwood of the Orange night police patrol said they noticed that the door of Schaffert's establishment was open about 2 a. m. today. Investigation revealed the overcoat and its burden. In the desk of the real estate man they said they found nearly a dozen similar bottles.

"Why, I put that stuff there so long ago I couldn't remember it," Judge Ingles quoted Schaffert as saying. "Some of it must have been stored there fifteen years ago." Ingles remarked that judging from Schaffert's breath, the court thought some of the liquor had been removed long before a fifteen year wait.

200 CHURCHMEN OPEN SESSIONS AS CAMPERS

Approximately 200 men, women and children were camping today at the camp grounds of the German Evangelical association, at West Orange, the Rev. G. A. Sterle, pastor of Santa Ana Zion's Evangelical church, announced.

The camp meeting program opened last night with the Rev. G. G. Schmid of Anaheim preaching the sermon.

Services, the hours of which will be the same during the six-day camping period, were announced as praise services, meetings for children and three sermons, the sermon hours being 10:45 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Forty-five tents and twelve one-room houses have been provided at the camp for the accommodation of those who are here for the camp meeting and who will attend the conventions of three branches of the church, Woman's Missionary society, Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor and the Sunday school. The convention programs open on the evening of Wednesday, July 16.

Members of the Evangelical church present at the camp meeting were disappointed to learn that the Rev. E. Burgo of Freeport, Ill., could not be present. Word was received that Mrs. Burgo had just undergone a serious surgical operation and that it would be impossible for him to be here to take part in the programs.

The Erring Wife and Mother is the woman who sacrifices her health and consequent happiness to her ambition. We all know such women—anxious that their homes shall be kept immaculately neat and attractive and their children well dressed they overdo and soon bring on some feminine ailment which is evidenced by nervousness, irritability, headaches, backache and other aches and pains attending such ill. Every woman should remember that the most successful remedy for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which for fifty years has been restoring women to health, strength and happiness.—Adv.

The next meeting of the club will be held at noon Friday, July 18, at St. Ann's Inn, and the club members were extending an invitation to all business men to attend and take part in the dis-

CRIME MYSTERY

SANTA ANAOne or Two Deaths Viewed
For Time As Murders
Listed As Suicides

JAIL KILLING SUSPECTS

Some Slayings Unavenged,
But None Unsolved, Is
Officials' VersionWhat is a crime mystery?
Don't ask Sheriff Sam Jernigan
—he hasn't any.

This county, a glance over the records proved today, is virtually bankrupt so far as crime mysteries or unsolved murders are concerned.

Not a killing, but that some one has been charged with it, and in virtually every case either convicted of it or justified for it.

The lone exception noted is that of Manuel Castanada, who was charged with the murder of Ramon Pietro at Los Alamitos a few years ago. Lack of evidence caused the case against Castanada to be dismissed. So the Pietro murder remains unsolved, officially at least.

There were one or two deaths, finally written into the records as suicides, that for a time were tentatively viewed as murder mysteries. In some respects they remain as unexplained suicides, but as murders they failed to pan out. At least coroner's juries satisfied themselves that the cases were suicides, though doubt is still expressed in some quarters as to the real nature of the tragedies.

Weights Body Down.

Take, for instance, the case of the wealthy Los Angeles man who fastened a railroad iron to his leg and walked out into the surf at Sunset Beach, nearly two years ago.

Any way that was the coroner's jury theory of what happened, but for some days officers in Orange and Los Angeles counties studied the possibility of foul play. Business relations of the dead man were examined in the pursuit of several clues, and his affairs were generally sifted, but to no avail. One cause of suspicion was a letter mailed by the man, presumably as he was on his way to carry out his act. The letter announced his intention, but something in its

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—A woman should know the ways of the world—and of men—before she becomes a wife.

So thinks the alluring, black-eyed Egyptian princess, Della Patra, once hailed as the Pacific Coast's—if not the nation's—prime "vamp" but today just a happy housewife in a happy home.

And the princess really ought to rate as an authority. Her own courtship some five years ago was a kaleidoscopic whirlwind—which kept the coast gasoline for days.

It started with her arrest in New York and extradition at the investigation of one suitor—he is her husband now—traveled through the courts and finally culminated in her marriage to Erich Buehle, an architect.

Miss Meikle has been prosecutor in the women's court for the past year. The court, established eight years ago, receives all cases in which a woman figures as defendant or complaining witness. More than 500 cases are tried there every month, Miss Meikle stated.

Many Charmed

Through it all, hearts of judges, lawyers and a myriad of other men fell victims to the charm of those big black eyes.

"I know Erich, and I couldn't be half so happy now," says the princess, "if I had been only some simple little unsophisticated girl, who could only sit around and look pretty."

"It takes the attractive woman to hold a husband's love. Calling a girl ready for marriage when she knows nothing of making herself attractive to men is like calling a dog to hunt."

FINDS WOMAN'S BIGGER LIBRARY
CRIMINAL AID
PLAN FAULTYRehabilitation Is Virtually Impossible Under Law of State, Is View

"Not enough attention is paid to the criminal after his conviction. The duty of the district attorney, who convicts the criminal, does not end there. The prosecutor should then interest himself in rebuilding the criminal's character. Only in this way can criminal tendencies be checked. Under our present system but little is done in the way of reformation."

So said Miss Theresa Meikle, assistant district attorney of San Francisco and prosecutor in the women's court there, while in the South recently attending the district attorneys' convention at San Diego. In fact Miss Meikle, who is one of the youngest prosecutors in the state, and said to be the only woman holding such a position, addressed the convention on the subject, which attracted considerable comment.

Law Is Barrier.

"She's right, of course," conceded District Attorney A. P. Nelson, here, today.

"But what are we going to do about it? What can we do about it, under our present situation in California?"

Nothing, unless the law is amended.

"Miss Meikle's suggestion that a department should be established to conduct the work she mentions, is the only feasible way that such a task could be effectively or systematically carried out."

"Under our present laws that would be impossible, since the personnel of each county department is now limited, and we have not enough help as it is to carry on the work we are now doing. We already have more than we can do in prosecuting criminals, let alone rebuilding them after we convict them."

Would Examine Prisoner.

In the opinion of Miss Meikle, tests should be made from time to time to determine the physical, pathological and psychological condition of the convict. The medical and psychological experts making these tests, under Miss Meikle's plan, would report their findings to the judge of the court where the case is tried, and to the district attorney who prosecuted the case, thus reducing to a scientific basis the question of deciding applications for parole or pardon.

Miss Meikle will be prosecutor in the women's court for the past year. The court, established eight years ago, receives all cases in which a woman figures as defendant or complaining witness. More than 500 cases are tried there every month, Miss Meikle stated.

Big Circulation Gain

During the year there were 4552 volumes added to the library, and there were 1144 volumes counted as lost, because of wear and failure to return after being let out.

The present total of books in the library is $1105.

The report shows there were 183,376 volumes circulated during the year, an increase of 33,861 over last year, and that there were 20,628 volumes circulated from the branches of the library during the year.

In the children's department there were 56,222 books circulated, an increase of 17,969 books for the year.

He laughed at Kellogg's Bran!

Now read this letter of thanks from Mr. Kane. It speaks for itself. Remember, it is because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran that it was so effective in his case—just as it has been in thousands of others. Only ALL bran can produce 100 per cent results.

My dear friend:
Imagine a young man weighing 165 pounds, a weakling for months parked in bed, a weakling weighing 94 pounds. An elderly lady whom I knew since I was a kid told me what she thought was the best thing. Uncle Tom told of my plight she immediately mentioned your product for such an ailment. Maybe some of us didn't think it was a views very lightly, but it was to laugh.

My dear friend, I am still laughing . . . not at your product, but because I am able to. I am telling you and the world at large, "Eat Kellogg's Bran." Your Bran should be called "Constipation's worst enemy." I owe you my heartfelt gratitude. I can talk, and whenever the opportunity presents itself, I may say always full of bran—Kellogg's Bran. Wishing you countless days of progress, I am

Yours for success,

John M. Kane,

10-CENT STORE MAGNATE TO SPEND MILLIONS OBTAINING OPERATIC CAREER FOR BRIDE

Doris Mercer, bride of Sebastian S. Kresge, five-and-ten-cent store magnate, and Kresge.

HORSE LOCATES
TWO BIG STILLS

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 11.—"Horse sense" was enlisted by liquor sleuths near here, with the result that today two big moonshiners stills are not operating, which otherwise would probably be going full tilt.

The stills and the horse belonged to the same man, Roy Tanksley, who later pleaded guilty to possessing the stills.

The stills and the horse kept him busy right and left. And he buried his nose in the books of Verdi and the plays of Ibsen.

All of which his associates couldn't fathom at all.

The answer, however, has just come—in the news of his recent marriage in New York to Doris Mercer, a young divorcee with grand opera ambitions.

Emulates McCormick

She has a fair voice, 'tis reported, but she never has managed to reach even an opera chorus. But Kresge, emulating Harold Fowler McCormick, Chicago "harvester king," is going to spend his millions to make her dreams come true, just as McCormick is spending his on Ganna Walska.

Kresge is 57. His bride is 31. McCormick, too, was past the 50 mark when he won Ganna's heart.

All the way through there is a striking similarity in the Kresge.

Finally one of the agents noticed the old horse grazing nearby. Mounting the animal Deputy Marshal Lowe started down a trail.

Without any particular purpose he gave the animal free rein and rode several miles. Suddenly the horse turned from the trail and walked through a clump of bushes. Proceeding a short distance he stopped near two stills.

Briefest Divorce Case

McCormick was separated from Edith Rockefeller McCormick in just 10 minutes in the fastest divorce hearing in Detroit's history.

Kresge was parted from his former wife in just the same length of time—in the fastest divorce hearing Chicago ever witnessed.

Kresge started his first store here. He married Anna Harvey in Memphis, and took her in as his partner. He soon opened up another store in Memphis, and then began to branch out in other cities. Today he operates a chain of 223 stores.

Now the former Mrs. Kresge quietly sits at home with her children as Kresge plans to spend his millions in obtaining an operatic career for Mrs. Kresge No. 2.

IS REPORTLabels on Rum Are 'Bunk'
Says Federal Attorney

District Prosecutor Is Cer-

Chance on Life

Narcotic dealers are on the run in Southern California and bootleggers are being hard hit, with the result that many of the big men in the illicit game are playing closer to cover, according to a statement made here yesterday by Joe Burke, United States district attorney, who came from Los Angeles to deliver an address at Orange.

Burke, in his conversation, warned purchasers of bootleg liquor to place little or no value in labels on wet goods, indicating importation from a foreign country.

"Those labels are the 'bunk,'" Burke said, in his characteristic way.

Bootlegging in Southern California has been curbed to some extent," the attorney said, in discussing here the "trade" situation throughout the Southwest.

Labels Unearthed.

We appreciate that many big dealers are at large and that considerable liquor is being smuggled into California along the Southern California coast. But we have gotten some of the big guns and are going to get more—that is just as certain as it is certain that they are operating.

Investigations and discoveries made by secret service men have proven to us conclusively that bootleggers are selling any quantity of local-made liquor in bottles that bear the labels and seal of distilleries famous in foreign lands. In Los Angeles recently we found 300 pounds of labels, wrappers and tin foil tops in a trunk belonging to a Los Angeles bootlegger. The labels even had the district number of distilleries.

"I am satisfied that the major portion of wet goods sold in Southern California in bottles indicating foreign manufacture is manufactured right here in Southern California.

"While I cannot at this time designate any fatalities resulting from drugging this spurious stuff, yet I know that every one who drinks it takes a chance on his life—or being stricken blind. It is manufactured, by men inexperienced in the art and some of it must certainly contain poison that may result in blindness or death." Impose Stiff Penalties.

Burke said that the case of the smugglers recently apprehended near Balboa palisades had not yet reached his office. The men, he said, still are in the hands of the customs officials.

"We now have under indictment," the attorney added, "several groups of men who are accused of smuggling.

"Stiff jail sentences in addition to imposition of heavy fines on narcotic dealers has put the traffickers on the run.

"Because of the activities of the federal agents and the co-operation of local officers, narcotic dealers have been frightened to the point where they no longer carry large stocks. They carry on their person only two or three bindles, each bindle containing two cans, where they formerly had many bindles in their possession.

"The federal judges have adopted the policy of imposing both heavy fines and jail sentences on convicted dealers, with the result that their number is growing less and their activity less brazen."

strained tone led to the suspicion that it was either forged, or written under duress.

Another more recent tragedy, also listed in the official records as a suicide, was the case of the Montebello man, salesman for a brush concern, who was ground to pieces beneath the wheels of a Santa Fe train near Lyon street, at the outskirts of this city.

Motive Never Found.

That happened about five months ago and for several days occasioned close scrutiny by local authorities, who finally concluded that the salesman had taken his own life, though no motive for the act was ever found.

The salesman had left one evening for a meeting of fellow salesmen at Whittier, had continued to Santa Ana without attending the meeting, and had left his car on the street in this city, walking out to the point where his body was found next morning.

The two "suicide" incidents occupy the status of solved cases, however, and the only one that might not be regarded as solved is the Pietro case, at Los Alamitos.

Pietro was murdered, it was said, while walking along a street with a companion one night. A passing car stopped and two dim figures approached, there was a sharp word, a series of pistol shots and Pietro sank to the ground. His companion cringed, terror stricken in the dark, and

A woman sitting in a house nearby heard the sharp words that preceded the shooting. She thought she recognized the voice. But when Mammal Castanada was brought into court for a hearing, the woman was uncertain in her testimony. She could not say positively whose voice she heard.

A fellow prisoner of Castanada in the county jail testified that Castanada had confessed the deed to him. But this witness, too, was uncertain. And Castanada went

WATER COMPANY INSTALLS GAS POWER PUMP

The length to which irrigation companies will go to co-operate in the present campaign to conserve electricity, was clearly indicated here today when it became known that the directors of the Yorba Linda Water company, at a recent meeting, had authorized the expenditure of approximately $12,000 for the installation of a natural gas engine and other equipment, to replace an electric motor and pump now in use.

The pumping plant now has a 200 horsepower electric motor and pump capable of raising 2800 gallons a minute. This will be taken out and later used to serve as a booster pump.

The new engine will be of 240 horsepower, four cylinder type, using natural gas for fuel. The pump is described as a ten-inch Pacific centrifugal single stage, double suction high duty pump, capable of raising 3600 gallons a minute. Delivery is promised in six weeks.

The water company's directors also reduced the amount of water its clients may use, one-sixth per share.

(LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Medi-

Stricken with diphtheria, the girl lay for days, receiving nothing but frequent cold baths administered by her father. Health department physicians stepped in and demanded, under penalty of arrest, that a physician be called. But it was too late. The girl was too weakened to respond to treatment.

A 5-year-old brother who was also refused medical care, died some days ago.

EARLY COUNTY HISTORY TOLD LIONS CLUB

Members of the Santa Ana Lions Club today were better posted on Orange county history as the result of an address yesterday by T. E. Stephenson, postmaster here and managing editor of The Register, made at the club's meeting at St. Ann's Inn.

Stephenson related bits of interesting state history originating in what is now Orange county.

He wove facts and legends into an imaginary hike up Santiago canyon, pointing out along the way places that have figured in historical incidents and in tradition.

Stephenson declared it to be his belief that the original Yorba settlers' first home in this section was on the point of the Hoyt hill, north of El Modena. Gypsum slide, Robber's peak, Los Bueyes canyon, Limestone canyon, Fremont canyon, the Sinks, and Flores peak were pointed out along the way.

The talk closed with the interesting story of the banditry led by Juan Flores in 1857. Flores, a youth of 21, escaped from San Quentin and organized a band of thieves and cutthroats.

This band waylaid Sheriff Barton of Los Angeles and his posse near a small hill located just off the Laguna Beach highway. Pursued by a posse led by General Andreas Pico, Flores and his followers were trapped on the hill lying between Santiago and Harding canyons, where all were captured excepting Flores and two companions. These three were later captured by Pico, and two of the bandits were hanged on a sycamore tree. Flores and a number of others were hanged in Los Angeles.

Stephenson said that the significance of the participation of Mrs. M. J. Mathews and daughter Esther returned Sunday after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. E. Davin of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Crispen and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herr and children, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Crispen and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schultz of Fullerton enjoyed a barbecue steak dinner in Brean canyon Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sarles and daughters, Lila, Ruby and Fern, and the Misses Zora and Elda Morrison spent Tuesday at Redondo Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Yates of Redondo Beach moved their household goods to Redondo on Tuesday.

Roy McKittrick and Ray Reese of Whittier and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schultz of Fullerton spent Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Crispen.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Proud of La Habra visited Mrs. H. Heartfield Tuesday.

The young people's Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church held its monthly business meeting at the church Monday evening. It was decided to have an echo banquet in connection with the intermediate society.

The main feature of this banquet which will be held next week will be reports of the California Christian church conference which was held at the Christian college in Los Angeles last week.

All members and friends of the Baptist Sunday school are invited to a picnic at Fullerton city park Friday.

'Y' FINDS HOME FOR ITINERANT YOUNGSTER

Stafford Nunally has found a home.

Following a story that appeared in The Register several days ago, in which the Y. M. C. A. asked persons who wanted the boy. The milk of human kindness has not ceased to flow in this county.

"The boy is well pleased," Smedley stated. "He can now settle down and make a man out of himself, and that is what he wants to do."

"We had a number of calls following the article that appeared in The Register from persons who wanted the boy. The milk of human kindness has not ceased to flow in this county."

"I don't think it appropriate to give out the name of the family that has taken Stafford into their home, but I will say that he is an Orange county person to supply a home for a 14-year-old youngster without mother or father, an-

Y. M. C. A. officials, they said, nouncement was made today by Ralph C. Smedley, "Y" secretary, that Stafford had left the Y. M. C. A. which sheltered him for ten days.

The boy is well pleased," Smedley stated. "He can now settle down and make a man out of himself, and that is what he wants to do."

"We had a number of calls following the article that appeared in The Register from persons who wanted the boy. The milk of human kindness has not ceased to flow in this county."

"I don't think it appropriate to give out the name of the family that has taken Stafford into their home, but I will say that he is an Orange county person to supply a home for a 14-year-old youngster without mother or father, an-

Y. M. C. A. officials, they said, regretted seeing Stafford leave. He had been a "buddy" to every official around the building and had made friends from the moment he came in contact with them.

Stafford arrived in Santa Ana, unannounced, several days ago, and asked the "Y" to find him a home. He had been wandering over the southern part of the state since he came to California, from Texas.

"Y" OFFICIALS TO BE AT PALISADES MEET

Ralph C. Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and several other local "Y" officials are expected to attend the annual Y. M. C. A. committeemen's and leaders' institute to be held at the Pacific Palisades, near Santa Monica, August 2 and 3, Smedley said today.

Leaders in "Y" work from all parts of Southern California are expected to attend, and this year's meeting will be especially important, it was explained, in that it combines the secretaries summer school, the special state convention, and the laymen's institute.

Addresses by leading "Y" workmen of the nation will be heard at the meeting. These speakers include J. W. Pontius, Columbus, Ohio; A. B. Nicholls, New York; R. R. Perkins, San Francisco; and Fred D. Kelly, Denver, Colo.

THRIFT COMMITTEE WILL BE NAMED BY "Y"

A thrift committee will be appointed within the next few days

by the Y. M. C. A. council, to be in charge of Thrift week here next January, according to Ralph C. Smedley, local "Y" secretary.

"The committee is being appointed at this time," Smedley said, "in order to allow them plenty of time to make arrangements for the big week in January. Circulars will have to be printed and there is a lot of work to be done in advance," said Smedley.

Ample entertainment facilities have been provided at Palisades Lodge, so that delegates can bring their families for the weekend.

The copper roof of Christ Church, in Philadelphia, was laid in 1751, and is still in perfect condition although never painted or repainted.

Start Grading of H. B. Camp Ground

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 11.—Grading work on the $10,000 municipal auto tourist camp ground will be started here the first or next week under the direction of E. M. Billings, city engineer.

According to Billings it is his plan to lay out about ninety camp plots to be included in the camp. A gas plate with two burners is to be allotted to each two camps. Ovens to be used on the stoves will be issued to campers by the camp caretakers.

A contract has been signed for a lease on the property at the corner of Ocean avenue and First street. Work will be rushed as much as possible.

THE REASON WHY

A million people buy from
PIGGLY WIGGLY
every day

This picture shows Joie Ray, Illinois A. C. winning the mile run from E. H. Fails Jr., Chicago A. C. in the National A. A. U. championships in the fast time of 4:14.2—5—the fastest mile Ray ever ran.

Chesty Join announced his intention of setting a new world record for the event and students of running form believe he would have mad good but for the strong wind and soft track.

The mid-westerner is expected to smash the Olympic record in the 3000-meter run in Paris and hang up 10 valuable points for the American team.

Ray was a member of the team four years ago but had the misfor tune to pull a muscle in his right leg two days before the 1500-meter run in which he was entered. He insisted on starting and finished eighth.

This year the 1500-meter event was conceded to Paavo Nurmi of Finland and this is one reason why Coach Lawson Robertson of the American team restricted Ray's participation to the longer run.

Teams in each qualifying for the finals.

3 Finns First.

Finland and England survived the first heat, three Finns, Nurmi, Ritola and Talli finishing one, two, three. The time was 8:47.45.

In this event, first place is scored as one, second as two etc., and the team scoring the lowest number of points is adjudged winner.

The second heat was won by the United States with France second.

Unfortunately this race produced some exceptionally bad sportsmanship on the part of the French spectators who booed and hissed the Americans every time they came around.

A French runner stumbled and fell in the midst of a group of Americans and there was a great scramble to avoid treading on the unfortunate athlete. The stands seemed to have the impression that he had been knocked down.

Joie Ray, our best in the distance one, was spiked shortly after this at one of the turns. He pulled up, bleeding but after limping a few yards set out after the field and finished eleventh.

The race was won by Wide of Sweden, with Cox, Kirby and Tibbettts of the United States team at his heels. Enough French runners were bunched among the early finishers to shut out the remaining Swedes.

Finland, France, England and the United States will compete in the finals, with the Finns virtually certain of victory.

Use U. S. Paper

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Merchants in China and Japan are exporting several hundred pounds of old newspapers through this harbor each month, to be used for wrapping paper in those countries.

The Philadelphia Nationals seem to have run true to form this year by losing the big majority of their exhibition games on the spring training trip.

CANCEL ASCOT RACE
LOS ANGELES, July 11.—There will be no races at Ascot Sunday. Failure of mechanics to get Eddie Hearne's new racing car in shape has caused the delay. It is planned to have a series of races the following week with Leon Durand, Ralph De Palma and Eddie Hearne in special events.

where they spent the day.

A club is to be organized in the near future by the girls of Miss Gardner's Sunday school class and on Saturday the first step toward the organization was made. A number of pleasant plans have been made for the club girls who will have a jolly time when these materialize.

Mrs. Santa Ana Smith and baby of China came Sunday for an extended visit at the home of her sister Mrs. Santa Monica Jones.

Mrs. Ben Rogers and three daughters, Dorothy, Rose and Violet spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Page.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lacabanne motored to Huntington Beach the morning of the "Fourth" and were met there by their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landin and baby and Mr. and Mrs. P. Lacabanne and children of Los Angeles and all spent a pleasant day together.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward of this place and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Farnsworth and family of Santa Ana took picnic dinners with them Sunday and spent the day pleasantly at Balboa.

'Y' FINDS HOME FOR ITINERANT YOUNGSTER

Stafford Nunally has found a home.

Following a story that appeared in The Register several days ago, in which the Y. M. C. A. asked Orange county persons to supply a home for a 14-year-old youngster without mother or father, announcement was made today by Smedley, "Y" secretary, that Stafford had left the Y. M. C. A. which sheltered him for ten days.

"The boy is well pleased," Smedley stated. "He can now settle down and make a man out of himself, and that is what he wants to do."

"We had a number of calls following the article that appeared in The Register from persons who wanted the boy. The milk of human kindness has not ceased to flow in this country."

"I don't think it appropriate to give out the name of the family that has taken Stafford into their home, but I will say that he is on a ranch, and that he left here a very happy little boy."

Y. M. C. A. officials, they said,

'Y' OFFICIALS TO BE AT PALISADES MEET

Ralph C. Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and several other local "Y" officials are expected to attend the annual Y. M. C. A. committee men's and leaders' institute to be held at the Pacific Palisades, near Santa Monica,

August 2 and 3, Smedley said to

Leaders in "Y" work from all over Southern California are expected to attend, and this year's meeting will be especially important, it was explained, in that it combines the secretaries summer school, the special state convention, and the laymen's institute.

Addresses by leading "Y" workers of the nation will be heard at the meeting. These speakers include J. W. Pontius, Columbus, Ohio; A. B. Nichols, New York; R. R. Perkins, San Francisco and Fred D. Kelly, Denver, Colo.

THRIFT COMMITTEE WILL BE NAMED BY "Y"

A thrift committee will be appointed within the next few days

by the Y. M. C. A. council, to have charge of Thrift week here next January, according to Ralph C. Smedley, local "Y" secretary. "The committee is being appointed at this time," Smedley said, "in order to allow them plenty of time to make arrangements for the big week in January. Circulars will have to be printed and there is a lot of work to be done in advance," said Smedley.

Ample entertainment facilities have been provided at Palisades Lodge, so that delegates can bring their families for the weekend.

The copper roof of Christ Church, in Philadelphia, was laid in 1751, and is still in perfect condition although never painted or repainted.

A contract has been signed for a lease on the property at the corner of Ocean avenue and First street. Work will be rushed as much as possible.

Start Grading of H.B. Camp Ground

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 11.—Grading work on the $10,000 municipal auto tourist camp ground will be started here the first or next week under the direction of E. M. Billings, city engineer.

According to Billings it is his plan to lay out about ninety camp plots to be included in the camp. A gas plate with two burners is to be allotted to each two camps. Ovens to be used on the stoves will be issued to campers by the camp caretakers.

A contract has been signed for a lease on the property at the corner of Ocean avenue and First street. Work will be rushed as much as possible.

With more than $100 in cash as well as heaps of glory and honor as the booty lure, the Santa Ana Commercial company, champions of the Orange County Baseball league and winner of the handsome A. G. Spalding trophy, and the Irvine Beanpickers, runners-up, tangle Sunday afternoon in the first of a three game series. All games will be played at Irvine.

When the Orange County league was organized, provision was made for the post-season matches between the clubs finishing first and second. The forfeit fee of $25, posted by each of the six starters, will go to the winner of this series. The championship and the cup, however, already have been annexed by the Commercial.

Believe Teams Even.

Around the rendezvous of local sportsmen general opinion today was that the clubs are evenly matched and that the best baseball in recent years will be forthcoming when the teams get under way. The Commercials twice dented Irvine during the league season but nevertheless there was said to be considerable money available for those who liked the Truckmen's chances. Irvine fans are loyal fans and they still are ready to support their club.

The Beanpickers will pin their chances on the good right arm of the tall Mr. Fred ("Dutch") Hinrichs, once the best pitcher at the University of Southern California. Irvine has tried pitcher after pitcher, left handed and right handed, and found in the end that the cool and consistent Hinrichs was the best of them all.

Silent as to Pitchers.

Manager George Lackey, "master mind" of the champions, refuses to divulge his mound selection. He said today it would be either "Red" Billman, erstwhile Irvine chucker, or Herb Salveson, the bushy right hander who remains undefeated after ten games.

Billman has not twirled for the Commercials this year but he is on their eligibility lists and since the little fellow has always wanted to work against the team that gave him the air his petition for the assignment may be answered. Most of the fans believe, however, that Lackey will stick by his old standby, Salveson, who twice has turned back the Beaners.

Manager Arthur Trickey of the Irvine squad said the pastime would begin at 2:30 o'clock sharp. He warned fans to get to the park early. A "full house" is predicted.

SHORT SPORTS

Yesterday's hero—Rube Benton, whose pitching and batting was responsible for the Reds' win over the Phils, 2 to 1.

The Braves got an early lead over the Pirates and Barnes just managed to stall off an attempted rally, Boston winning 5-3.

Cleveland came from behind and scored three runs in the eighth to beat the A's, 4-3.

Up numbering some heavy artillery, the Cubs had a field day, taking both ends of a double bill from the Robins 9 to 5 and 10 to 3.

Washington dropped the first game of a double header to Detroit 12-10 in 13 innings and dropped to a tie for first place. The second game went only five innings to a 3 to 3 tie.

Billy Evans Says*AMERICAN SHATTERS 400 METERS RECORD

Fitch, 'Dark Horse,' Gives Spectators Thrill By Running 47:45

COLOMBES STADIUM, France, July 11.—America's hopes of another Olympic first place which were raised by the record breaking performance of Horatio Fitch of Chicago, in a semi-final heat of the 400-meter run, were dashed today when Liddell of England won the final of this event, setting a new world record of 47:35. It was the third time in two days that the world mark for the 400 meters was lowered.

Fitch of Chicago A. A. was second to Liddell with Butler, England, third, and Johnston, Canada, fourth.

Going back that far we find that pitching was the dominating factor of the sport. Close games with low scores were the rule. Playing for one run was all the vogue. The sacrifice and the steal were popular strategic moves.

Then came a curbing of the pitcher and the rise of the slugger. The home run became popular. Every batter took a healthy swing. Strategy in a sense was discarded for brute force.

Now we have a sort of a fifty-fifty proposition between the pitcher and the batter, which tends to make for more baserunning. Speed once more becomes a most valuable asset.

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) COLOMBES STADIUM, PARIS, July 11.—Bang! went a world's record, almost before the tiers of Colombes stadium had ceased to echo the crack of the starter's gun, sending the men away from their marks for the first event on today's Olympic program.

Horatio Fitch, U. S. A., raced to fame when he won the semi-final heat of the 400 meters in the unprecedented time of 47:45 seconds.

The world's record in this event had been smashed by Imbach of Switzerland, who set a new mark of 47:48 seconds.

Fitch, who had not been looked upon as the strongest of the American quartet which started in this event, lowered the record by a fifth of a second in winning his heat this afternoon.

The American led to the tape the speedy Butler of England and Johnston, the Canadian flyer in the first heat, these three qualifying for the finals. Engdahl of Sweden, who finished ahead of Wilson, U. S. A., so that the Yankee star was shut out, failed to make him a diamond celebrity than any other one thing. Cobb explains thusly:

"Nothing worries a player more than to know that he must handle a ball perfectly in order to get his man. That means he must field a ground hit cleanly and follow it up with an accurate throw."

"In my prime, I believe I could travel down to first base as fast as any one. Opposing infielders knew it, and when I came to bat they worked under a strain."

"Incidentally I sought to keep the opposition in the air by constantly shifting my style at the bat."

"My speed, and the mental attitude of the opposition, helped me reach first hundreds of times when I should have been retired."

Speed isn't the asset to a winner that it was 15 years ago, but its value during the past five years has increased over 100 per cent.

The dangerous clubs in the two major leagues today are those who are utilizing their speed by taking chances on the bases.

EPINARD, EUROPE'S SPEEDIEST HORSE, ARRIVES TO RACE AMERICA'S FASTEST

BY FRANK GETTY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 11.—With a chip on his glossy equine shoulder and a challenge for the fleetest of the American turf, Epinard arrived today.

Pierre Wertheimer's gentle four year old stood the ocean voyage from Southampton like the thoroughbred he is and his trainer, who saw the colt from the Berengaria to the stables at Belmont, is greatly pleased with the French champion's condition.

It will not be long before the regal hoofs that showed the way to the speediest in horseflesh on the continent when Epinard was a three year old, will be drumming the training track at Belmont park preparatory to meeting the pick of this country's thoroughbreds.

Sam C. Hildreth, who trains his own and Sinclair's horses at the Ranocas stables, is trying to point Grey Lag for one of these races. Hildreth considers this horse, now six years old, the greatest he ever trained. Whether he can bring the 1921 champion back is problematical.

Gene Leigh, who trains the Wertheimer colt said this morning that there will be no excuses if Epinard is beaten.

Three races worth a total of $100,000 have been planned for the French horse.

Which of the wide choice of American thoroughbreds will be selected to carry the silks of America against those of France, remains to be determined.

This country has no Man o' War, nor even Zev. There are, however, a number of high class colts capable of extending the French visitor in the three races—a Belmont, Aqueduct and La-Tonia—planned for September and early October.

Ladkin is a possibility for one of the match races; so is Bracade; Zev might even be brought out again to meet the invader.

HERE'S JOIE RAY, YANKEE HOPE IN 3000 METER RACE, FINISHING SPEEDIEST MILE

This picture shows Joie Ray, Illinois A. C., winning the mile run from E. H. Falls Jr., Chicago A. C., in the National A. A. U. championships in the fast time of 4:14:25—the fastest mile Ray ever ran.

Chesty Joe announced his intention of setting a new world record for the event and students of running form believe he would have made good but for the strong wind and soft track.

The mid-westerner is expected to smash the Olympic record in the 3000-meter run in Paris and hang up 10 valuable points for the American team.

Ray was a member of the team four years ago but had the misfortune to pull a muscle in his right leg two days before the 1500-meter run in which he was entered. He insisted on starting and finished eighth.

This year the 1500-meter event was conceded to Paavo Nurmi of Finland and this is one reason why Coach Lawson Robertson of the American team restricted Ray's participation to the longer run.

teams in each qualifying for the finals.

3 Finns First.

Finland and England survived the first heat, three Finns, Nurmi, Ritola and Talli finishing one, two, three. The time was 8:47:45.

In this event, first place is scored as one, second as two, etc., and the team scoring the lowest number of points is adjudged winner.

The second heat was won by the United States with France second.

Unfortunately this race produced some exceptionally bad sportsmanship on the part of the French spectators who booed and hissed the Americans every time they came around.

A French runner stumbled and fell in the midst of a group of Americans and there was a great scramble to avoid treading on the unfortunate athlete. The stands seemed to have the impression that he had been knocked down.

Joie Ray, our best in the distance was spiked shortly after this at one of the turns. He pulled up, bleeding but after limping a few yards set out after the field and finished eleventh.

The race was won by Wide of Sweden, with Cox, Kirby and Tibbett of the United States team at his heels. Enough French runners were bunched among the early finishers to shut out the remaining Swedes.

Finland, France, England and the United States will compete in the finals, with the Finns virtually certain of victory.

FARRELL, RYAN BATTLE AGAIN AT OIL CITY

Bantams Scheduled to Put On 'Grudge' Bout As H. B. Main Event

HUNTINGTON BEACH CARD. Main Event—Billy Ryan vs. Young Farrell, 118 pounds. Semi-final—Young Terry vs. Scotty Dietz, 145 pounds. Preliminaries—Bobby Herman vs. Young Aragone, 118 pounds; Marshall Jiggs vs. Walloping Wilson, 138 pounds; Frank Cody vs. Eddy Montana, 118 pounds; Merle Kelly vs. Sam Carlson, 145 pounds.

Rematched immediately after their battle royal last week, Billy Ryan and Young Farrell, bantamweights, will clash again tonight at Kid Mexico's Huntington Beach boxing arena. Many thought Ryan had a slight edge in the first fight but the draw decision was well received.

According to those on the inside, Ryan and Farrell are none too friendly. The boys wanted to finish last Friday's affair in the dressing rooms, it was said, but were persuaded to wait until tonight.

Young Terry, the greatly improved Whittier welterweight, meets Scotty Dietz in the feature spot. Four other bouts are carded.

The best time ever made in the Oxford-Cambridge boat race was achieved by the victorious Oxford crew in 1911, when it covered the course from Putney to Mortlake, a distance of four and a quarter miles, in 18 minutes 29 seconds.

Newport Beach—Balboa

HARBOR EXPERT GIVES PRAISE TO NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 11.—Edward A. Bertram, former state engineer of New York and an expert on terminals, who recently visited Newport Beach to look over the harbor, declared in a letter received today by Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, that the Newport harbor is advantageously located with unusual natural facilities for the development of a great commercial port.

Bertram in his letter said to Welch in part:

"From what I had an opportunity to observe during my tour of inspection of Newport harbor area and tide-lands under consideration, I noticed that it is a most advantageously located harbor, with unusual natural facilities for the development of a great commercial port, with the additional attractions of a residential development—allowing the enjoyment of surf and still water bathing, a combination rarely equalled anywhere and which is bound to become a very powerful stimulus for the rapid growth and ever-increasing prosperity of Orange county, and even the adjacent counties."

"I feel assured that the early construction of a commercial harbor, with modern labor saving equipment for handling shipments at Newport Balboa will prove a complete success. It will prove a success if such a harbor and facilities are carefully studied and planned in every detail of the many times which enter into the development of a comprehensive layout and design, capable of a progressive expansion of port and labor facilities including the connecting rail and motor truck transportation lines and it executed under capable, experienced terminal engineering supervision, thereby inviting shipping and manufacturing interests at Orange county's modern harbor."

According to Secretary Welch, the terminal expert will make another visit to Newport within the near future and make a thorough survey of the harbor and its possibilities and his report will be incorporated in a general report to be made to the county board of supervisors.

NEW DIRECTOR IS NAMED BY CHAMBER

NEWPORT BEACH, July 11.—The regular meeting of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday evening at the Newport Yacht club. Benjamin Funchen was named as a director to succeed the late W. A. Irwin.

Funchen is a real estate man, associated with Lew Wallace at Balboa and has been an active worker in the chamber for some time.

Secretary Welch was instructed by the directors to attend the meeting of the Southern California Secretaries association at Hollywood on Monday of next week and make an effort to get the August meeting for Newport Beach.

HARBOR REALTORS TO MEET TONIGHT

NEWPORT BEACH, July 11.—Elaborate plans have been made for the meeting of the Harbor Realty club which will be held Friday evening in the Newport Harbor Yacht club. The meeting will follow a dinner at 6:30 o'clock.

Twenty members of the Orange Realty club will be the guests of the Harbor club. The wives of the club members also will be present.

A boat trip over the bay will be made previous to the dinner. The trip will start at 5 o'clock.

An entertainment program has been arranged by two committees, one comprised of women and one of men.

Department Store Workers to Picnic

LAGUNA BEACH, July 11.—Laguna Beach has been chosen by the management of the Jacoby Brothers department store at the place where they will stage their annual outing.

About 350 persons—employees and their families—will come to Laguna Beach on Saturday, July 12 for this outing. Special busses have been chartered to bring these people to the beach. The high point overlooking the town where the community flag pole is situated has been picked as the picnic ground.

The program committee has outlined a number of games and made provisions for many contests of skill, races and beach sport.

The Rainbow Dance Pavilion has been chartered for Saturday afternoon and Isom's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

FORMER CHIEF OF ENGINEERS INVITED TO ADDRESS HARBOR CHAMBER ON PROPOSED WORK

NEWPORT BEACH, July 11.—An invitation was today extended to Major General Lansing H. Beach, former chief of staff of United States army engineers, to address the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce or the Associated Chambers of Commerce at his early convenience. Beach is visiting his son in Los Angeles.

The advice of Beach will be invaluable in securing government recognition in the form of a healthy appropriation for the further improvement of the

PRESS UNITES IN PRAISING NOMINATION

NEW YORK, July 11.—Democratic newspapers today are congratulating the party on its choice of John W. Davis while such Republican newspapers as the Washington Post and the Herald Tribune agree as to the nominee's personal charm and ability.

Dissenting voice are few and far between. The New York American, owned by William Randolph Hearst, says:

"The proud old Democratic party proposes to substitute the House of Morgan for the White House." The New York World, which supported Al Smith, says:

"Yesterday the Democratic party vindicated popular government in America. To have concealed nothing, to have fought the battle to the bitter end, and then to have turned the leadership to a man of the quality of John W. Davis, is proof that the Democratic party is fit to live, fit to govern and is worthy of the name."

The New York Times says: "He is the man best fitted at this time to reconstruct and reanimate his own party and to lead it with intelligence and vigor against the Republicans."

Praise from Harvey

The Washington Post carries an editorial by Colonel George Harvey, who succeeded Davis as ambassador to London, in which Harvey writes.

"If the Democratic national convention had done as well in making a platform as it has in selecting candidate the chances of the Democratic party would be much brighter."

The New York Herald Tribune calls Davis "an able citizen, unquestionably one of three best considered by the convention."

"The nomination was born of desperation rather than of optimism," declares the Detroit Free Press, a strong supporter of the Coolidge administration, in an editorial on the selection of John W. Davis as the Democratic standard bearer.

"Possibly he is the best person who could have been selected for the first and main task that confronts him, the task of preventing a party split by serving as a neutral figure about which the factionalists can rally. If he is able to do merely this, he will accomplish great work for the Democratic party and he will do the country a great service."

"Mr. Davis was the ablest man in the list of candidates," declared the Kansas City Journal, Republican. "He is a clean and able representative of his party, he is a brilliant lawyer and has filled acceptably a number of important offices in the service of his country, notably as ambassador to Great Britain."

The Kansas City Times, also Republican, said:

"After trying hard not to do it, the Democratic national convention has made a nomination that must command the respect of the country."

"The convention has by this nomination furnished the antidote for all the poison brewed in its deliberations and produced the only antiseptic which could heal the skirmish scars so liberally scattered during its protracted deliberations," says the Atlanta Constitution.

"John W. Davis is a great, big, broad-minded American citizen, who stands with both feet on the Constitution of his country."

"The Democrats made a wise choice" in nominating Davis, the Dallas News declares. "The Democrats have nominated a pure man and a big one. The pity is they did it so belatedly."

"There is another man parading under the same name as mine," McFarland told officers here, "and I am confident I can prove that I'm not the one the authorities want."

Norwegians Use Calif. Apples

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—A demand for California apples on Norwegian markets, is indicated in correspondence between fruit importers in Christiania, and the trade extension bureau of the chamber of commerce.

"The convention has by this nomination furnished the antidote for all the poison brewed in its deliberations and produced the only antiseptic which could heal the skirmish scars so liberally scattered during its protracted deliberations," says the Atlanta Constitution.

Begin 2-Million Building for Club

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Bids have been opened here for the construction of the new Jonathan club building which it is estimated will cost $2,500,000. A site for the club has been purchased at Sixth and Figueroa streets.

"Every patriot will rejoice that Democracy on its 103rd ballot nominated such a man as John W. Davis instead of some others whose names were before the convention," commented the San Francisco Chronicle, Republican.

The program committee has outlined a number of games and made provisions for many contests of skill, races and beach sport.

The Rainbow Dance Pavilion has been chartered for Saturday afternoon and Isom's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

DANA POINT TO FLAG ADDRESS HAVE YACHT: GIVEN LIONS AT ORANGE GOLF CLUB

Long Beach Men Purchase Acreage For Site of Two Golf Courses

LAGUNA BEACH, July 11.—The site for the Dana Point Yacht and Country club has been purchased by Major L. H. French, C. E. Bryant and W. T. Normile of Long Beach.

This purchase consisted of 385 acres lying directly back of the proposed Coast Boulevard, commanding a wonderful view of the long stretch of shoreline to the south and east and the terraced effect of numerous hills topped by the snow-capped Mt. Baldy in the distance toward the north.

The clubhouse will be situated on top of what is known as Rocky Point, with the golf courses sloping away from the building.

Clubhouse

The clubhouse will be built on the Spanish Mission type, with spacious entrances, wide verandas and large lobbies. From the verandas the guests may watch the players through the entire game over both eighteen-hole courses.

The clubhouse will include 150 sleeping rooms, each room provided with private bath or shower. One large dining room will be included as well as a number of private dining rooms. The plans also provide for a large gymnasium with lockers complete.

Construct Bathhouse

The grounds are to be landscaped and tennis courts, croquet courts, gun and rifle club is to be formed.

A large bathhouse will be constructed on the beach in connection with the club to contain lockers on the first floor with sun, reading and lounging room on the top floor. Their plans provide for large stables for horses and ample garage space to take care of guest automobiles.

The San Juan Point corporation has also proposed the building of a breakwater with a lighthouse at the end, also a 1200 foot pier at Stillwater Bay at Dana Point.

The Dana Point Yacht and Country club will be a women's as well as a gentlemen's club. It is unique in that it combines the water sports along with country club sports, with mountains to climb and a beach to play on the same day.

Mr. Normiles in a speech at the luncheon at the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce stated that to his knowledge there were only three such clubs in the United States that could boast of ocean, mesa land and mountains, and none of these could boast an all-year ideal climate as to be had at Dana Point.

Purchasers Well Known

C. E. Bryant is a resident of Long Beach and has been in the real estate business of that city for the past several years.

W. T. Normiles is formerly in charge as construction superintendent of the Stockton Street Tunnels in San Francisco. This is one of the largest tunnels in the world. Mr. Normiles has followed this class of work for several years.

Major L. H. French, a resident of Flintridge, is well known over the entire United States. He spent several years in Alaska in connection with large mining engineering projects. While there Major French formed very close friendship with Rex Beach, author of "The Silver Horde" and other Alaskan stories. He has been a hunter of big game in both continents and during the war faithfully served the United States as a commissioned officer in the army. Major French is at the present time associated with the Business Development company of Los Angeles and is prominent in business life.

These are all men who are accustomed in doing things on a large scale and making them successful.

Huntington Beach Band

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 11.—The Huntington Beach Municipal band will dedicate their next concert Sunday July 13 at 2:30 p.m. to the Huntington Beach Lions club in the band stand on the Beach Pike.

The band will play the new "Lions March" for the special benefit of the club. The club will attend a body. The band will feature Y. Marshall, French horn soloist, and Messrs. Anderson and Mitchell in a cornet duet. Will H. Galienne, tenor, will again sing. Director Hashman announces the following program for next Sunday:

March, "The Lions", D. C. Cannon.

Overture, "Light Cavalry," Fr. V. Suppe.

Waltz, "Wedding of the Winds", John T. Hall.

French horn solo, "Selected", Y. Marshall, soloist.

Selection, "From Maytime," Sigmon Romberg.

Intermission.

Musical Comedy, "The Prince of Pilsen", Gus Luders.

Cornet Duet, "Short and Sweet", V. Short.

Vocal solo, "The West, a Nest and You", Billy Hill, Hill & Galienne, soloist.

Selection, Suite from Atlantis, S. Franz.

March, "The Lions", D. C. Cannon.

The Star Spangled Banner.

ARREST TWO AT BEACH.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 11.—Alex Anderson was again under the care of authorities at the state hospital at Norwalk today following his removal from the local jail where he has been for the past several days.

According to J. F. Blair, of the Norwalk hospital, Anderson walked away from the hospital about a week ago while at work in a nearby field. He has been at the hospital for several years. It was said.

Anderson admitted to local police that he had escaped from Norwalk after he had apparently been brought to his senses by a hard bump on the head received when he fell from the top bunk of his cot. He struck a wash stand.

Anderson has been in this country attempting to go in bathing here without his bathing suit.

SAY MESA MEN TO HAVE GOOD PEACH CROP

COSTA MESA, July 11.—A heavy crop of peaches and other deciduous fruits at Costa Mesa this year will offset the apple crop which, according to Donald P. Dodge, president of the Costa Mesa Apple Growers' association, will be below normal.

According to Dodge the apple crop will not be up to standard due to the poor weather last winter.

The meeting will be held in the Costa Mesa club house and a committee of five will be appointed this week to co-operate with a committee of five from the Harbor Chamber of Commerce to handle the arrangements.

It is expected that the meeting to be held here will be the largest of its kind ever held in Costa Mesa.

A dinner probably will be served at the club house by the woman of the Community church. Plans call for an entertainment to follow the dinner. An endeavor will be made to bring the Associated chamber members to Newport Beach in the afternoon for a trip over the bay.

An endeavor will be made, according to plans, to get Congressman Phil Swing to attend the meeting and make the principal address of the evening.

Should Congressman Swing be able to attend this meeting he will be asked to talk on the proposed harbor development.

LAGUNA BEACH, July 11.—"The Stars and Stripes is a merry sort of flag, and never fails to bid you a cheery good morning from the sky," said V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange chamber of commerce, in a stirring talk on the American flag at the Lions club luncheon here yesterday.

"This accounts for the jaunty bravery of the American soldiers and sailors; it is why they make a joke of hardship when they fight."

Even the literature written by Americans about the late war is humorous, Johnson pointed out.

Speaking in more serious vein about the significance of the flag, Johnson reminded his

15 OF S. A. ON CRUISE; MORE ARE SOUGHT

Fifteen Santa Ana men today were enjoying a fifteen-day cruise along the Pacific coast, and efforts were being made at present to find more who wished to earn a little money while enjoying the two-weeks cruise aboard the U. S. S. Eagle No. 34 which leaves San Pedro July 28, according to Francis Westgate, who was recently promoted from ensign to senior lieutenant in the United States naval reserve.

"Skilled workmen can be rated for office and can get higher pay on their cruise than unskilled men," Lieutenant Westgate announced, "and anyone interested in joining the naval reserve for these cruises during vacation time may get details at 113 West Third street."

The Santa Ana men with very little training aboard the navy boats have proved to be experts at target practice with the 3-inch and 4-inch guns, according to Westgate, and these men are "making a big hit in the reserve."

Cruises will leave San Pedro July 28, August 18, September 8 and September 29.

"There are two Eagle boats in service for the fifteen-day cruises," Westgate added. "These boats visit Catalina Island, Cerros Island, Guadalupe Island, San Diego, San Clemente channel, Santa Barbara and Santa Monica."

"At Cerros Island the men are given an opportunity to enjoy some of the best fishing along the coast. At Guadalupe they will visit the famous Mexican fortress and will see the original home of the world's sea elephants. The crew and ships will undergo admiral inspection at San Diego and the men there will be granted liberty. The crew will "lay off" a day to visit Santa Monica and Venice."

"During the cruise there will be swimming drills, gunnery drills, signalling, tactical maneuvers, ships routine, small boat drills, fire target practice, competitive whaleboat drill and whaleboat races."

"A CHAPTER IN HER LIFE" AT WALKER'S

A formula for happiness, that evanescent thing that is born of a thought and that all the world longs for, is given in a strange and true story in "A Chapter in Her Life," the current attraction at Walker's theater.

"The scenes in this photoplay are a succession of adventure, thrills, love interest and continual suspense until the end is reached, when in the final denouement, the misunderstanding is cleared.

Each character in this photoplay seems a person almost apart from the others—each one having a distinct purpose and yet all appear to form a wonderful ensemble that makes the photoplay picturesque as well as absorbing in interest.

The cast is headed by H. B. Warner, an actor of virility and talent, who has been seen in numerous stage productions as well as features.

Cool Dishes

Shrimp and Pea Salad.

One cup cleaned shrimps, 1 green pepper, 3/4 cup cooked peas, 2 tablespoons stuffed olives, 1 head celery, 1 head lettuce, salt and pepper.

Remove seeds and white fiber pepper and cut in shreds. Mince olives. Cut celery in small pieces.

Wash and crisp lettuce and arrange on salad plates. Combine fish, peas, pepper, olives and celery and season with salt and pepper.

Put on bed of lettuce, sprinkle with lemon juice and serve.

Total calories, 835. Protein, 330;

fat, 260; carbohydrate, 245. Iron, .0081 gram.

An ideal salad for those who wish to reduce as the fat content is so low.

Cream Chocolate.

One-half cake chocolate, 1 1/4 cups sugar, 2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 quarts milk, 1/2 pint whipping cream, 2 tablespoons vanilla.

Grate chocolate, mix salt, sugar and chocolate. Add boiling water to make a smooth paste and slowly stir into the 2 cups of boiling water. Boil without stirring until thick. Cool slightly and add vanilla.

Half fill glasses with cracked ice, add 3 tablespoons chocolate syrup and fill glasses with milk.

Ton with a small spoonful of whipped cream slightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Children always love to drink through a "straw" and these are an economical device calculated to save napkins.

Tea Punch.

One cup strong fresh tea, 3 lemons, 2 oranges, 1 cup fresh strawberry or raspberry juice, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water, cracked ice.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Cut oranges in slices. Boil sugar and water 10 minutes. Mix lemon, strawberry juice and tea while tea is hot. Add syrup and pour mixture over cracked ice. Add orange slices and serve.

Fruit Punch.

One cup strong fresh tea, 3 lemons, 2 oranges, 1 cup fresh strawberry or raspberry juice, 2 cups sugar, 2 cups water, cracked ice.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Cut oranges in slices. Boil sugar and water 10 minutes. Mix lemon, strawberry juice and tea while tea is hot. Add syrup and pour mixture over cracked ice. Add orange slices and serve.

Tomato Sandwich.

One medium-sized tomato, 1/4 package Neufchâtel cheese, 2 English walnuts, 2 thin slices whole wheat toast.

Part tomato and slice on fresh warm toast. Spread with cheese, sprinkle with nuts broken in small pieces and cover with remaining piece of toast.

Total calories, 248. Protein, 40;

fat, 71; carbohydrate, 137. Iron, .0011 gram.

If you are wishing to add to your weight, double the amount of cheese, butter the toast generously and add more walnut meat.

Fruit Punch.

One pineapple, 1 quart water, 1 cup raspberries or strawberries, 6 oranges, 3 cups lemon syrup.

Squeeze juice from lemons and strain. Stir sugar into hot tea.

MISS ALIAS

By DOUGLAS GRANT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Sallie Peck, employee of the Fair Deal Five & Ten, quarrels with her boyfriend, Michael, into the back yard to take down a washing on Ma Brennan, with whom Sallie lives. Crash shakes the earth and something strikes Sallie a blow on the head.

When she regains consciousness she finds she is strapped, surrounded, handsomely furnished. A French maid calls her Alva Copeland and Madama Copeland, a tall, richly gowning woman, claims her as step-daughter. Sallie is taken to meet Cousin Wheeler, who makes love to her.

The girl resolves to solve the mystery. She removes the straps to his lips and asks slowly:

"It was as bad as that, then? It was only by her hair that you were able to identify her?"

"Yes, Michael." Preoccupied by her own grief Ma Brennan was still oblivious to the new note in his voice. "I was near death when at last I gave up all hope of findin' her amongst the living—most o' the others were accounted for. I shall never forget till my dyin' day!"

"Don't let's talk of it any more," he said soothingly. "Tell me again about that woman from the wreck who got in here and took those clothes of poor Sallie's."

"She did not mean to steal them, Michael, for one of the two fifty-dollar bills she left under the card on the dresser would've more than bought them new, an' Sallie would be the first to give them to her an' not take a cent, may God rest her! There's little to tell about the strange woman, me not seein' hide nor hair of her, but 'twas only a few minutes after the crash, when the wreck had first caught fire, that Ise Thorkinson seen her come staggerin' in the back door here with a singed blanket wrapped like a shawl over her head an' all 'round her, an' I guess what ever else she'd had on must've been burnt or torn off her for she left nothin' behind her here except that blanket. She was carryin' in a fine black travlin' bag, though, Ise says, an' she must ha' let herself out the front door after dressin' up, for I found it unlocked, tearin' that all I know, Michael. They'd brought me home tearin' me hair an' wailin' like a banshee, an' I'd ha' thought to go near Sallie's room if I hadn't smelt somethin' like wool smokin' an' it struck me maybe a spark had come in the windyan' caught fire. There was the money an' the card on the dresser, an' the blanket a fine mess on the floor where the woman had been thoughtful enough to pour a pitcher of water over it, thanks be to ye, Michael!"

Mike dropped his arm limply and raised his heavy head. "Try not to think of it, Ma, that's the only way. I've got more to reproach myself with than you for she has gone from me in anger when the word that I was too proud to speak would have set everything right between us!"

"Seems funny, Ma; her not waitin' to find out who lived here and thank them for what she'd taken," Mike observed.

"Or even for a cup of tea, poor thing! She must ha' been needin' it bad, and heaven knows she was welcome to it!" Ma Brennan sighed. "Twas only after I'd found Sallie an' everything was over, whilst the neighbors was helpin' me red up the house for the funeral an' I'd leave no one touch that room but myself, that I thought to see what the strange woman had helped herself to."

"What had she taken?" Mike persisted. "Are you sure you noticed everything that was gone?"

" Didn't I know every stitch the poor child had?" Ma Brennan replied. "Twas just underwear, an' a good pair o' black silk stockings, an' the black patent leather sandals with the one heel loose; do you mind them, Michael?"

He nodded without speaking and she went on:

"The waist was a new little white silk one that you'd never seen but it was last year's brown cloth suit that she'd put on her, an' the little brown hat with the buttercup round the crown. That was all, except the one pair o' white gloves that Sallie was savin' for Easter an' a remnant o' George crepe she'd bought to make a sash of last year an' never used."

"What's this George crepe stuff, Ma? What color was it?"

"Whatever do ye want to know for?" She stopped her monotonous rocking to stare at him. "Sure, 'tis not like we, Michael, to begrudge the things to a poor body in need, though I s'pose ye feel that twas sacrifice almost for a stranger to be touchin' Sallie's belongings now! The George crepe was brown an' thin like a veil an' it was as a veil she wore it, I'm thinkin'. Maybe her face was burnt, I dunno. I asked Frieda Schmidt about it for she seen her come in, too, but she'd caught no good look at her, bein' as she had her head all covered, like."

Had Ma Brennan been watching she could not have helped noting the change which crept over the face of the young man, for trained detective as he was the shock was too great for concealment. She turned again only when the lamp on the table flared up suddenly to full flame and found him scrutinizing the lock of hair closely beneath the light. His cheeks were flushed.

"Thank you, Ma." His voice was husky with a rising excitement and his fingers trembled as he drew an envelope from his pocket and put the golden strand carefully away. "I can't tell you what you've done for me, giving

Lost and Found

The Penal Code of California provides that one who loses a lost article under circumstances which give him means of inquiry as to the true owner and who appropriates such property to his own use without making reasonable effort to find the owner, is guilty of larceny.

EVENING SALUTATION
"Where is the heart that doth not keep,
Within its utmost core,
Some fond remembrance, hidden deep.
Of days that are no more?
Who hath not saved some trifling thing
More prized than jewels rare—
A faded flower, a broken ring,
A tress of golden hair?"

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

If there were any probability of the Democrats being successful at the polls next November, the nomination of John W. Davis at the Democratic convention in New York would be cause for congratulation, not only to the Democratic party, but to the Republican party and the country at large, as well. Davis is a strictly first class man. He is a statesman and a scholar and a diplomat of high order.

Although McAdoo has many admirers in this county, so far as we have heard local Democrats express themselves, many of them like Davis much better than they do any of the other candidates whose names were presented to the convention, and in this judgment The Register heartily agrees. As to how the Democrats who are really good and perspicacious politicians like him, that is a horse of another color.

And the color of this horse is another reason why the Republicans like Davis, beside the fact that he is a first class man and would make a good president if he should happen to be elected. That reason is that he probably cannot poll as many progressive Republican votes as McAdoo could have polled, and that he certainly will not get as many Socialist and independent votes as McAdoo would have been able to command.

The long and bitter fight waged in the New York convention, and the very large multiplicity of candidates whose names were before the convention, will at least not contribute anything to the chances for Democratic success at the November election. However, the party has the satisfaction—and it should be a deep satisfaction—of having presented a candidate who will command the respect of all men and women of all parties.

In the selection of a candidate for vice-president, they were not so fortunate. Few Democrats even will contend that Governor Bryan of Nebraska is a man of presidential timber, however fine a man he may be personally. Perhaps the Democratic convention realized that they have no chance of success in November, and therefore felt that it would make little difference whom they might nominate for vice-president. And then there was Brother William Jennings to consider.

The American aviators are now half way around the world. The first half is always the longest.

AVOID TOURIST TAX

Germany is being boycotted by tourists this year, and hotels, theaters, taxicab companies and other interests catering to the tourist traffic are starving.

The reason is not prejudice against Germany. It is merely a foolish tax that the Germans have imposed on visitors, running in Berlin to as high as 50 per cent on hotel charges. Learning of this tax, tourists simply avoid Germany. There is not the ante-bellum lure, anyway. The prestige of German cities, German universities, German castles, German gardens, etc., is lower than it used to be. Tourists can take them or let them alone. They would go over the old routes as of yore, if traveling was cheap, but now they spend their money in France, Italy, Switzerland and England.

The tourists, needless to say, are mostly American. It was American millions that the Germans sought to siphon into their treasuries by the new taxes. They failed to consider two facts of American psychology—first, that Americans, no matter how "well heeled" they may be, hate to be stung; second, that the majority of American tourists are not rich, but are people in moderate circumstances who have saved long for their foreign trip, and want to make their money go as far as possible.

Some one suggested this as a sign to be erected at railroad crossing, "Better Stop a Minute Than Forever."—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

VACATION BOOKS

A queer notion has sprung up that the human mind, during a vacation jaunt, can attend to nothing in the reading line save light fiction. A bookseller who happens to be also a book-reader and book-lover is disgusted with that notion.

"The latest detective story," she says, "may be ideal for a night on the train or for a week-end, but for a longer period I recommend something more leisurely and worth while. There are thousands of readable and yet permanent books that are just crying aloud for attention. Everyone has at least one such book that he means to read 'someday.' Vacation is that time. So why, oh why, waste precious vacation time on trash?"

Being a constructive critic, this bookseller proceeds to offer numerous suggestions. Parkman for the Adirondacks, Tomlinson's "Sea and the Jungle" for shipboard and Roosevelt's "Winning of the West" for a ranch trip are a few of the recommended books. But the field is wide and includes many other volumes as fascinating and entertaining as these. There is fiction worth reading to fit every taste and mood, and there are books of biography, travel and nature lore as soul-stirring as the fiction.

Even the hapless being who is deprived of a vacation change of scene can profit by the bookseller's hints and slip away from humdrum cares into the enchanted world of some hitherto undiscovered book.

Japan is on the point of refusing to buy from us any more native souvenirs to sell our tourists over there.—Dallas News.

A VOICE FROM THE CLOUDS

The other day an aviator, flying several thousand feet above the earth, talked directly by radio with men on the ground at McCook Field, Dayton, O. The first questions sent up into the air asked the flyer to tell whether he could hear plainly, where he was, where he was going and how the weather was up there. All of which he answered promptly and clearly.

A little later he told his listeners: "We are now at a bank of clouds several thousand feet high. We will go over them. Up we go—up along the side of the bank. Now we are at the top, and down we go—

Editorial Features*California the Right Place

"The Earth," published at Topeka, Kas., in the interests of the Santa Fe railroad, occupies its front cover page this July with a full spread article entitled "California Always the Right Place for Practical People," by J. E. Jarrell. It is especially valuable in its presentation of the successful fight made in California against the foot and mouth disease. It follows:

"California has successfully worked itself out of the difficulties brought on by the hoof and mouth disease—an almighty fatal to livestock, especially cattle.

"While many livestock districts in various parts of the United States have had experience with this disease, no remedy has been found which is better than the one adopted in California. That is promptly to kill and burn infected animals; burn everything touched by infected animals; isolate all stock that possibly could have been exposed, and kill all gern carrying dogs and cats that run loose.

"The official figures, according to the Los Angeles Times, show that the total number of livestock in California susceptible to hoof and mouth disease is 5,489,000; the total number exposed and killed is 55,000—less than 1 per cent.

"There are in California one hundred million acres of land; of this area less than 50,000 acres has been in any way affected by the epidemic; this is less than .05 of 1 per cent of the total area.

"This remedy enabled California to make a record cleanup, and official reports are to the effect that the state is free of the trouble. The state's livestock industry has had a severe setback, but already steps have been taken to bring it back to normalcy. The state pays half the value of the livestock killed and the United States government pays half.

"Traffic to and from California points, which was handicapped by quarantine regulations, now is moving freely. The stream of home-seekers and other investors to the Golden State is heavier this summer than it has been at any other time since the war. California used to be known as a winter tourist country, but of late years it has been an all year tourist country; and many of the tourists who go there to stay, because they find it a delightful place to live and a good place in which to make a living. This is particularly true of farmers.

"Wherever homeseekers go—in southern California, in the San Joaquin valley, in the delta country around Stockton, and north to San Francisco and beyond Eureka—they can find land available for various kinds of farming, fruit growing and stock raising. Prices and terms are made to meet the needs of prospective settlers, and in every county there is a farm advisor ready to help the newcomers get started in the right direction with their operations.

"California is a state of big opportunities for the farmer—especially the farmer of small fortune—from $3,000 to $5,000.

"California figures that 100 families with from $3,000 to $5,000 apiece are better for the state than one family with from three hundred thousand to five hundred thousand dollars. The good farmer of limited means, therefore, is the one California is making a bid for.

"It is a policy that will win in the long run."

Why so pale and wan, fond lover?

Prethee, why so pale?

Will, when looking well can't move her.

Looking ill prevail?

Prethee, why so pale?

Why so dull and mute, young sinner?

Prethee, why so mute?

Will, when speaking well can't win her,

Saying nothing do?

Prethee, why so mute?

Qut, qut for shame; this will not move,

This cannot take her;

If of herself she will not love,

Nothing can make her,

The devil take her!

Pop was smoking and thinking and ma was darning holes out of socks and pop sed. Well, east is east and west is west and many a wind will blow, but theres no place like home.

In glad you realize it, ma sed. You were out with that Mr. Lewis last nite and to a bankwet the nite before and somehow elts the nite before that, and I was beginning to be afraid you mite forget ware you live, she sed.

Im glad to know you missed me, pop sed.

O, I got along very well, thanks, as far as thatas concerned, ma sed. Well, Im glad you got along all rite, pop sed. Anyway, the wild beasts roar in the jungles and the man-eating fish nash their teeth in the sea wife vultures swoop through the air, but here I am safe and sound by my own fireside with my loving wife and my ony sun. Wares Gladdis? he sed.

Out at a dance, ma sed.

Well, I hope she don't sprane her ankle, pop sed, and ma sed. Wy should she, for heaven sakes?

I dont know of any reason except carelessness, but wat I ment was, I dont wish harm to any living creature wile I sit here safe and sound in the bosom of my family with contentment in my brest and a cigar in my face, pop sed. China beckons and I hear the siren call of the 7 seas, but theres no place like home, he sed.

I promised Mrs. Hews Id go to a bridge party with her tonite, and I expect her to stop for me my ony moment now, ma sed, and pop sed. Well, that, a coincidence, Lewis is going to drive me down to the festes tonite.

And him and ma both went out and I finished reeding Dick Dare Amung the Pirates and went to bed and dreamed I was 300 years old and not ded yet.

IN THE LONG AGO

14 Years Ago Today

From the Register Files

JULY 11, 1910.

A score of representative citizens signed a resolution endorsing A. I. Stewart for the office of county assessor.

Mayor J. O. Royer of Anaheim announced he would not be a candidate for assemblyman.

Dr. C. L. Rich, Fullerton physician, brought suit against the Edison Electric company to collect $1400 professional fees and $327 hospital bill. Dr. Rich alleged he attended E. H. Lapier who was terribly burned while working on a roof at Fullerton.

Frank Culp, Placentia ranch employee, was knocked unconscious and painfully but not seriously injured when thrown from his horse and buggy yesterday at the corner of Sixth and Main streets.

The Santa Ana Little Club will shoot against the best marksmen of the Pacific Coast in a tournament next month.

Political rumors were to the effect that Col. S. H. Flinley would be a candidate for assemblyman.

Building permits issued during the month of June in Santa Ana totaled more than $80,000.

"Well, that's so, Samantha," said Daddy kindly. "All right, we'll go and see everything we can see for 30 cents. That's a lot of money."

"Daddy, we're going to have a holiday," said Samantha.

"Does it cost anything?" asked Daddy, taking out his old leather pocketbook which looked pretty flat.

"It was on the bills 'Admission 10 cents,'" said Mrs. Cracknucks.

"But I guess we can afford that: I've saved 30 cents on the housework this week by doing my own washing and ironing. I do think I ought to have a holiday."

"Well, that's so, Samantha," said Daddy kindly. "All right, we'll go and see everything we can see for 30 cents. That's a lot of money."

"Away went Daddy Cracknucks and his wife to the park, and by and when they came to the big gate with the sign over it which said "Happy Go Lucky Park. Come in!"

Daddy bought two tickets from Mister Zip at the ticket window.

After looking at his picture you can readily see why he is blue.

Trains of thought are often delayed by excess baggage. In South Africa they have discovered a new blue baboon. After looking at his picture you can readily see why he is blue. You can't keep a good man down or a good-for nothing man up. Many hands make light work, and many hands make light of work.

squeeze in at a time. "Hello, Daddy!" cried Nick. "I thought you would be coming. Hello, Mrs. Cracknucks! Will you buy an ice cream cone or a glass of lemonade or a pack of peanuts?"

"Peanuts!" exclaimed Daddy. "That sounds pretty good. I believe I'll have a—"

Here Mrs. Cracknucks pulled her husband's sleeve and whispered something into his ear.

"No, I guess not," said Daddy hastily. "You see, we only have 10 cents—. I mean peanuts are awfully bad for both of us. Come on Ma."

So away went the old squirrel gentleman and his wife to see all the sights of Happy Go Lucky Park.

Pretty soon they came to the Ferris wheel. You know what that is, a big wheel as high as a church steeple that goes round ever so slowly, carrying people in funny little seats to see the view.

Only Mister Zip's Ferris wheel was only about as high as a corn stalk for Happy Go Lucky Park was for very little people.

The Woodchuck boys had just been up for a ride when Daddy and his wife came along.

"Jimineezers, you ought to go up in the Ferris wheel," cried Wobbly Woodchuck. "You can see the whole world nearly from the top. I'm still dizzy."
